Little gets OK from village on new subdivision start

by GLORIA DAVIS

Another subdivision will be burgeoning in the Village of Antioch now that the village board has approved the first phase of Al Little's proposed 80-acre development west of Longview, running down to Deep Lake Rd., called Pine Hill Lakes.

The proposal is due to go back to the plan commission for final approval.

The first phase plans for 38 single homes to be followed by two more phases.

Little's plans include the building of 225 single family homes entotal.

Following a recommendation from the zoning board to change the zoning of the property that the Comfort Inn is being built on Rte. 173 to B-2 special use, the village board added a Class AA motel-hotel classification to the liquor ordinance to allow the serving of liquor in the Inn's cocktail lounge.

The board also heard a letter from the owner of E&E Electronics commending Antioch Police Sgt. Charles Watkins for taking his time to give personal attention "whenever needed" with no problem considered to small.

In other business the board:

— approved a payment of $75,118 to Indiana Construction for sewer plant improvements.

— set 10 a.m., Saturday, March 26 for the annual Easter Parade.

ACHS grid star in critical condition at press time

Richard Price, 18, Lindenhurst, Antioch High School senior and member of the All North Suburban Conference football team last season, remains in critical condition at press time following a two-vehicle accident on Friday.

Price, the son of Gary and Connie Price, was driving a half-ton pickup belonging to Raymond Chevrolet when it was struck by a Lake County Hwy.

Dept. snowplow at 9:45 a.m.

The snowplow was driven by Robert A. Olson, 53, Round Lake. The collision occurred at the intersection of Deep Lake Rd. and Rte. 173.

At press time, the Lake County Sheriff's Dept. had no details on the accident except that no citations were issued at the scene.

Raymond Scarpelli, owner of the car dealership that Price worked for part-time (there was no school on Friday) and Marty Gewecke, were on the scene of the accident almost immediately after someone came into the dealership and reported one of its trucks had been involved.

Reports are that the Flight For Life Helicopter was on the scene eight minutes after the emergency call came in. Scarpelli held Price until the helicopter arrived and took the victim to Milwaukee County General Hospital, Milwaukee.

He was quickly transferred to Froedtert Memorial Lutheran Hospital in Milwaukee.

According to Antioch High School's football Coach Steve Wapon, who retired from coaching after the '87 season. "Price was a hardworking player that showed tremendous improvement every game he played. He was one of our outstanding hitters and tacklers."

Walgreens open for business

by GLORIA DAVIS

There's a new store in town now that the anchor store for the Towne Square shopping mall, Walgreens, opened on Tuesday.

The store's official grand opening is slated for sometime in March.

Stewart Lenhoff, owner of Horizon Developers, spearheaders of the mall, said that also open in the shopping center across from Antioch High School on Rte. 83 are TCB Yogurt, Rollins Video and Sound and a cleaners.

Lenhoff reports that there are still four, 1,400 square foot open stores left in the mall and three of those are for lease.

"We are currently negotiating on the fourth spot and all we can say is that if the deal goes through, everyone will recognize the name of the chain store that is being urged to go into the mall," added Lenhoff.

Water agency to educate voters before referendum

"The Water Tap--Financing the Ownership" has been chosen as the theme for a voter education program being developed by the Public Information Committee of the Central Lake County Joint Action Water Agency.

The Agency, which consists of the village of Grayslake, Gurnee, Lake Bluff, Libertyville, the four Round Lake communities, and Lake County which serves the Village of Vernon Hills and the unincorporated communities of Wildwood and Knollwood/Rondout, has placed a referendum on the March 15 general primary election ballot to obtain voter approval of the method of financing a Lake Michigan water supply system.

The education program is being designed to provide voters with sufficient factual information about the referendum and the water system, which will be constructed to serve those communities that are members of the Agency.

A variety of resources, including a brochure and video, will soon be available for residents and community organizations. A speaker's bureau has also been established to assist local professional groups and social clubs in obtaining speakers for upcoming meetings and programs.

To obtain more information about these resources or the March 15 referendum, contact local government officials, or the Central Lake County Joint Action Water Agency at (312)362-2430.

CLC posts enrollment increase

The College of Lake County posted an enrollment increase for the fifth consecutive semester, with a 1988 spring semester total of 12,303 students. This figure is up four percent from last spring's enrollment of 11,846.

The number of full-time equivalent students was down slightly to 4,363, a one percent drop from 4,412 last spring.

These figures, considered the official enrollment statistics for the 1988 spring semester, are based on the number of students enrolled at CLC on the 10th day of classes.

Of the total student population, 6,929 (or 56 percent) are women, up seven percent from last spring. Part-time students number 10,440 (85 percent), a four percent increase over last year at this time.

Career programs continue to be the most popular, drawing 54 percent of the student body, followed by transfer programs with 36 percent.

BEST FOOT FORWARD

FROM THE OFFICE OF
DR. PAUL ABLER

TOE LOCK

"Toe lock" sounds like something a professional wrestler would use on his opponent, but in reality it is a newly discovered cause of foot pain. It can happen at any time while you are standing, may affect up to 70 percent of the adult population, and may be an important cause of joint stiffness in older persons. Toe lock can inhibit a person's normal gait, forcing the foot and leg to compensate, which often results in pain.

Toe lock lasts for less than 10 milliseconds, too quick for the naked eye—but not too quick for a computer. Using a computer, a New Hampshire study revealed instances of toe lock recorded in patients who wore mini-sensors on the bottoms of their feet during a normal day's activities, including jogging.

A check-up by your podiatrist may reveal whether unexplained foot pain is due to toe lock.

Stabbing trial continued to March 8

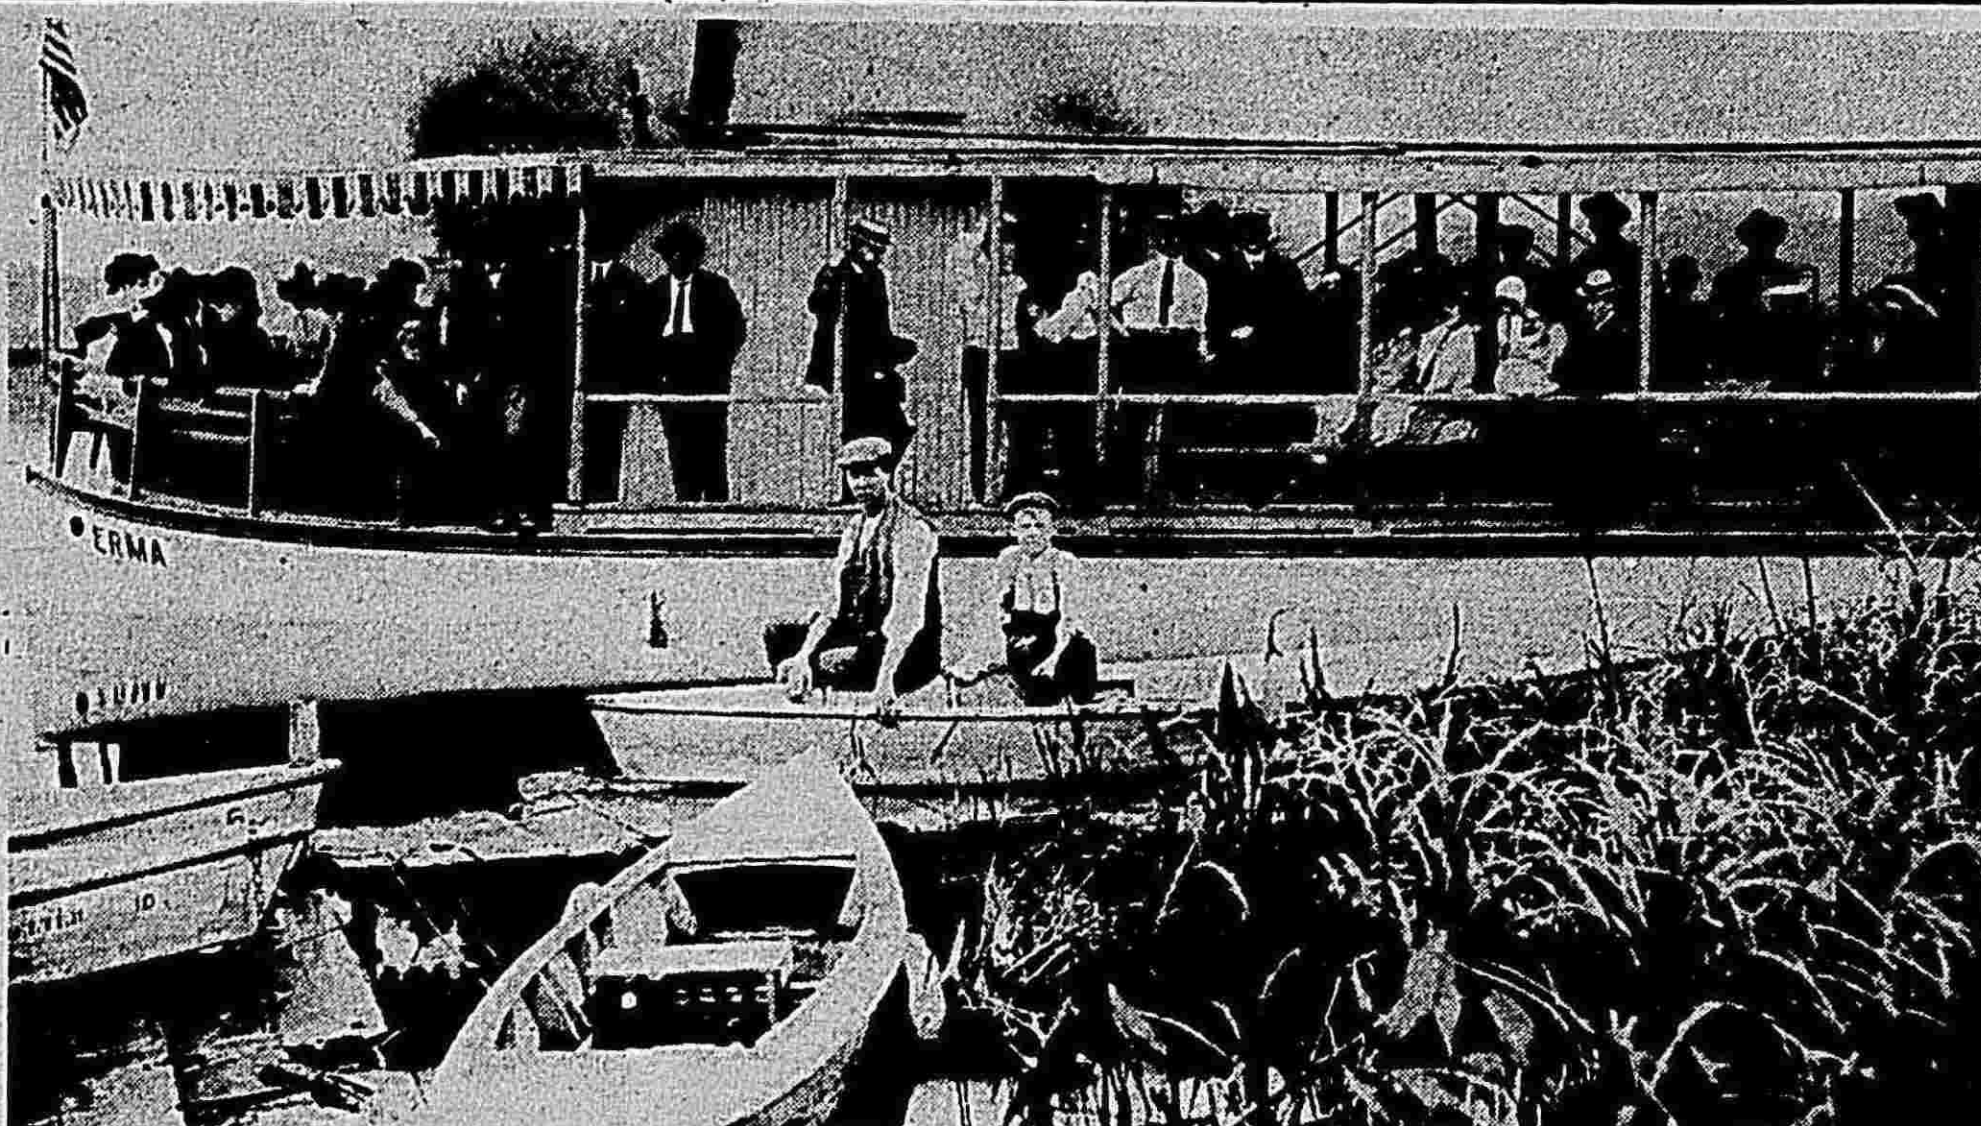

by GLORIA DAVIS

The jury trials of Larry Brown and Arthur O'Connell, Twin Lakes, on charges of aggravated battery in connection with the near-fatal stabbing of two Illinois men last winter on Johnsbury Rd. in Spring Grove has been continued again.

According to McHenry County Assist. States Atty. Gary Pack, he had requested the continuance from the last date scheduled, Monday, Feb. 8 to Monday, March 8.

The fact that the victim, Robert Baker, Lake Villa, who was injured critically, is a cross country truck driver contributed to the continuance request. The other person stabbed was Randy Knackstedt, Antioch.

Daniel Fisher, of Twin Lakes, was also charged with battery in the incident. He was found innocent of all charges by a McHenry County jury earlier. The fact that Fisher was arrested on traffic charges by Fox Lake Police around the time of the incident played an important factor in his acquittal, said Pack.

A trip to view the Lotus beds

The Erma, an excursion boat belonging to Selter's Summer Resort and Sportsmen's Home, took tourists out on Grass Lake to see the locally famous lotus beds. Tagged rare 'Egyptian Lotus, it was later discovered that these were American lotus probably planted by the Indians for food. Just a pale reflection of the earlier lotus beds remain in Grass Lake today.

Knirsch writes 100-year history of Antioch Twp.

by GLORIA DAVIS

A little over a year ago, Roberta Knirsch, a member of the Antioch Woman's Club, was asked to give a talk on the history of Antioch since her family had been one of the area's early settlers.

While doing research for this talk, Roberta's interest in the area's history was piqued even more and when her husband Mel, president of the Antioch Library Board and the Lakes Region Historical Society, suggested that there was a need for a written account of the area's settling and growth, she decided to take on the job.

So she set about putting a book together entitled "Antioch Twp. - The First Hundred years - 1837-1937," and now a year later, these 68 pages, five chapters plus authentic reprints of early pictures of the area, bound in bright yellow, are ready to go into the library of every Antioch Twp. resident.

According to Knirsch the $2 cover price will cover the cost of printing, etc.

"I didn't intend to make any money on the book, my husband and I thought it was something that should be done," she added. Both of the Knirschs have exhibited much community participation and interest and are active in the Lakes Region Historical Society with Mel being its immediate past president.

Roberta's research entailed her gathering much of the information she used from microfilms of the old Antioch News, records she found in the files of the historical society, and books on the subject she came across at the library.

Roberta's great grandfather, Christian Selter came with his family in 1869 and settled on 80 acres on the shores of Grass Lake on the site of the area now known as Selter's Subdivision. The elder Selter farmed the acreage.

His son, Roberta's grandfather, Robert, began a resort business by adding wings to the original farmhouse structure. This was one of the many resorts that were in Antioch Twp. in the middle 1900s.

Roberta's father, Walter, also operated the resort until it was sold. Then he went to work in town at the Ford garage. During the depression, the resort fell back to the Selter family when it was foreclosed on and the family eventually moved back in.

Roberta and Mel lived in Nashville from 1955 to 1960 and then returned to Antioch, living in a apartment in the resort until her father died.

They still live their today but they have torn down two wings containing 20 rooms, and reside in what was the original farmhouse structure.

In keeping with the turn of the century aura of their home, the Knirsch have many authentic family heirlooms included in its furnishings such as a Victorian secretary that belonged to Roberta's grandmother and a china cabinet filled with antique china and glassware also from grandmother.

In talking about her historical literary efforts, Roberta says that the chapter having to do with the men from Antioch that fought in the Civil War took her the longest and was the hardest.

"That was because I was crossreferencing three different sources and their were so many men from Antioch that fought in that war," she said.

"In fact," she added, "I found it very surprising that so many Civil War soldiers came from such a small area and no monument has been erected to honor them."

Roberta considers her history of the area a small written monument to these valiant men.

Antioch Exchange Club sets cholesterol testing Feb. 27

The Exchange Club of Antioch will be hosting cholesterol tests from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Saturday, Feb. 27 at the Rescue Squad Building on Holbeck in Antioch.

The Antioch Rescue Squad will be offering free blood pressure tests to those who take the cholesterol test.

It may be difficult for healthy, active persons to be concerned about heart disease, but consider these alarming factors:

-coronary heart disease is the number one cause of death in the United States, outnumbering deaths from cancer and accidents combined.

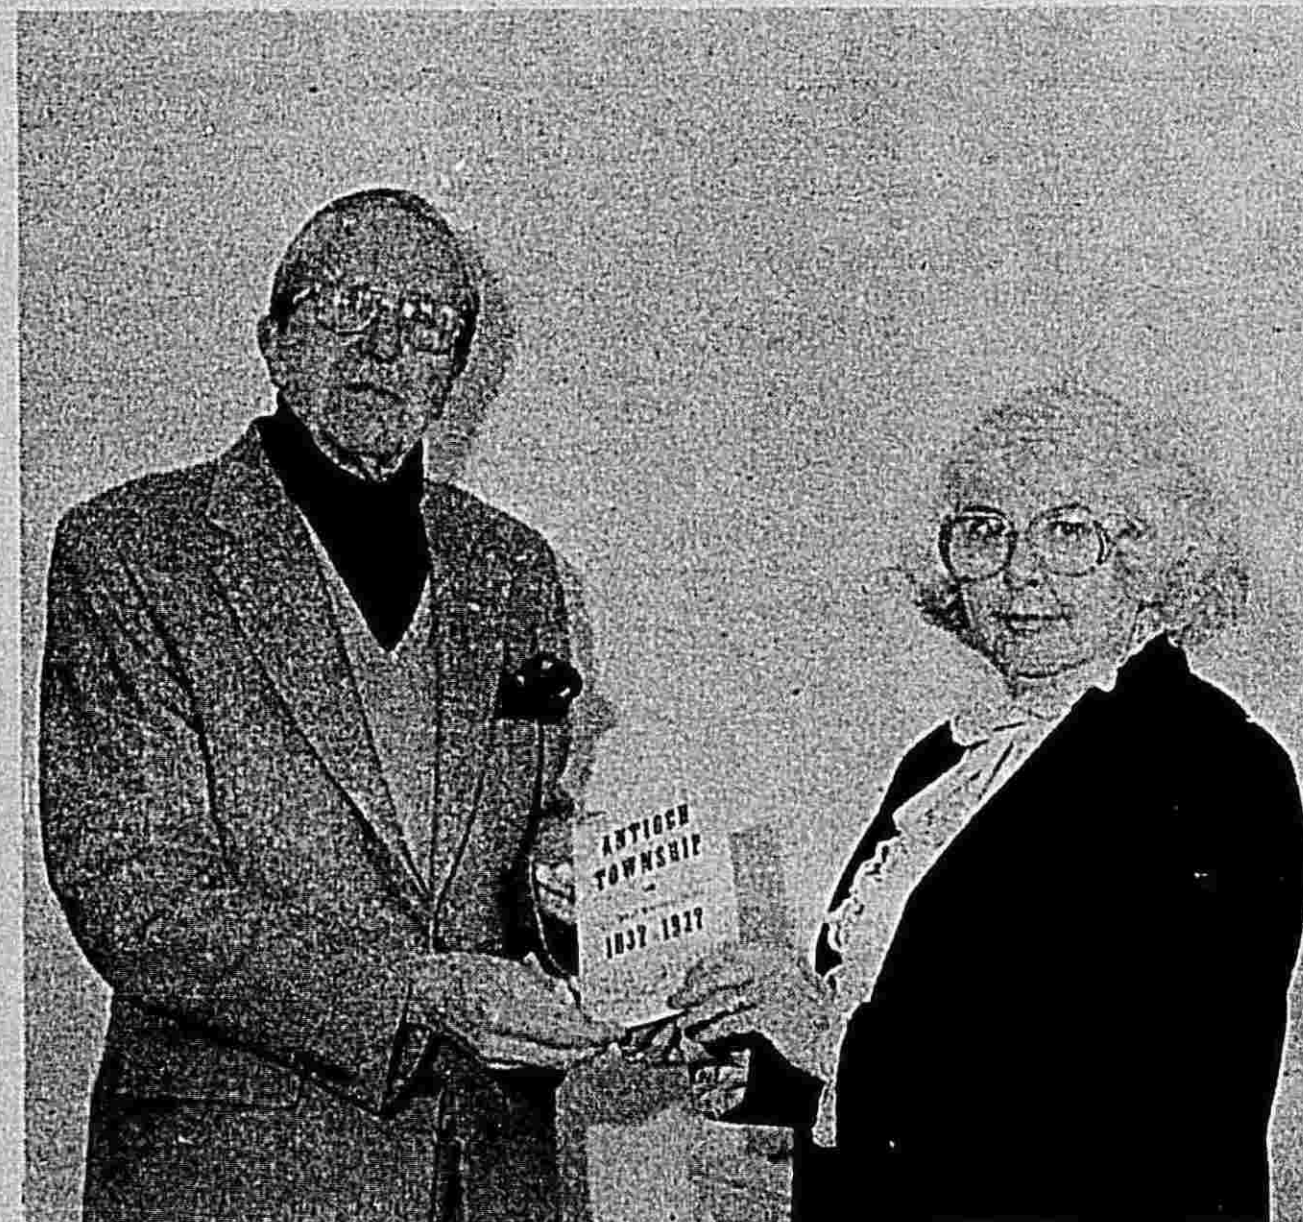

-Every minute, an American suffers a heart attack.

-More than 500,000 people die from heart attacks every year.

There is a $6 service charge per test.

Antioch Postmaster Stan Luta said that he will be sending out stamps by mail envelopes to residents of the Village of Antioch by Saturday to enable customers to purchase stamps by mail with being inconvenienced by the shortened post office hours.

Electronic age wonderful only when it's working

by GLORIA DAVIS

I had an electronic nightmare the other evening in which a few simple routine happenings had me almost completely immobile.

First of all, a car hit a utility pole during the night in the area in which I live, knocking out the electricity for about 10 minutes.

No big deal you say! This was the again or else my parameters got all screwed-up.

After this electronically devastating day, I returned home to find that I had forgotten to push the right timer button on my VCR and Opra's interview with Mrs. Gorbachev was history.

The frosting on the cake came when I turned my answering machine on to Robert Redford's voice asking me for a beginning of my "electromare."

When I Think About It

The current outage set my digital alarm clock awry with midnight blinking on and off in the time space, consequently the alarm didn't go off and I got up 45 minutes late.

When I went to check my watch for the correct time I found that another overnight occurrence, namely a battery burnout, had the face blatantly lying about it being 2 a.m.

Since I still can't set those darn things (Oh for a simple winding stem) and one of my kids wasn't available to murmur, "Cheeze mom, what are you a spastic?," I was not only late for work but spent the rest of the day wondering what time it was. Needless to say a short in the works of my car's dashboard proceeded to also render its timepiece lame.

On my way to work, I decided to stop at the bank to assuage some worries I had about the balance in my checking account, only to find out that "our computers are down" and no such info was forthcoming, so I had no choice but to make a deposit, just in case.

All day long my compugraphic (CRT) and I didn't get along, either I kept hitting the wrong key, causing my story, that I had been working on for an hour, to disappear never to be seen date and just as he was giving me his number for my answer, the ending beep before I could get that most valuable information.

When things go right, there's nothing like these new fangled computerized machines but when they don't, it's a bigger mess than was ever encountered when we operated mechanical gadgets with the simple push of an on or off button or the twist of a knob.

My daughter once left me alone in her condo with her entertainment center that takes three remotes to operate. That should have been simple enough, one for the tv, one for the stereo and the other for the VCR. Wrong! It something to do with cable ready and everything running through the stereo.

All I know is one remote just got me a lot of snow and they other two did nothing, I couldn't even turn the darn thing off.

It seems the younger one is the faster they understand and catch on to these microchip wonders. Ever tried to compete with a nine-year-old in a game of Intendo -- forget it!

I've come to the conclusion that I'm a victim not only of habit, but of too much information already stored in my weak little brain and the warehouse is just too full for even one more teeny-weeny little microchip.

How big was it?

High school selling storage sheds

The ACHS carpentry class is building storage sheds to be sold to residents of Dist. 117.

The sheds are 10 feet wide and 12 feet deep with a gambrel type roof and two doors. When both are opened it gives a four foot opening. The students will build the different parts in the shop, then they deliver and assemble at the site.

The cost per shed is $625. This includes a floor made out of treated material. A sample of the shed can be seen at the high school near the bus parking.

For more information, call the high school and ask for Ken Kasuboski.

Axton goes to Washington for banking conference

Ted C. Axton, president of the First National Bank of Antioch, was among more than 30 bankers from throughout Illinois who traveled to Washington for the 1988 Federal Contact Program sponsored by the Illinois Bankers Assn. (IBA).

This annual meeting, which consists of briefings and discussions with public policy makers, was held from Jan. 31 to Feb. 3.

During the three-day conference, Axton and his colleagues met with Federal Board Governor Martha Seger, FDIC Chairman William Seidman, and Comptroller of the Currency Robert L. Clarke.

There were also several briefings with representatives of other bankers associations and government agencies, including the American Bankers Assn., the Independent Bankers Assn. of America, the Farm Credit Administration, the Federal Home Loan Bank Board and Treasury Dept.

On Tuesday, Axton and a small team of other bankers called on Reps. Phillip Crane and Lynn Martin to discuss pending banking legislation. That evening the group hosted a Congressional reception, and on Wednesday morning the entire group met with Sen. Alan J. Dixon and with Tom Stubbs, legislative aide to Sen. Paul Simon.

At the meeting with their legislators, Axton and his colleagues emphasized the need for Congress to approve legislation that will enable banks to offer a wide range of products and services for their customers.

Axton is a member of the board of directors of the IBA, which is a full-service and progressive trade organization representing nearly 90 percent of the commercial banks in Illinois.

ZBA recommends grant of airport use request

by GLORIA DAVIS

According to Sheel Yanek, the Lake County Zoning Board of Appeals has recommended the granting of a conditional use permit to Hawkins Farms, Inc. and John Petschelt allowing a private airport to be put on 30 acres on Wilmot Rd. in Antioch Twp.

The County Board will vote on the request at a meeting on March 8.

Very few people attended the LC-ZBA's public hearing on the matter held earlier at the Antioch Twp. Hall.

A few neighbors living next to the property in question objected to the possible noise factor, especially a mink rancher who claimed that at certain times of the year the noise made by an airplane's takeoffs and landings would bother his mink.

Besides conforming with Federal Aviation Administration and Federal Communication Commission, as well as state, county and local requirements, Petschelt, who intends to buy the 30 acres from Hawkins Farms as a home and airport site pending County Board approval, must also adhere to a long line of conditions recommended by the ZBA.

Among those conditions is the reduction of the number of landings and takeoffs to be made from Jan. 1 through the month of May in deference to the mink rancher's problem.

2 reign at AARP

The Antioch Chapter 387 of the American Assn. of Retired Persons (AARP), with members in southeastern Wisconsin as well as Illinois, will have a regular business meeting at 10:30 a.m. Tuesday, Feb. 23. President Charles Youlden will preside.

At the AARP Valentine Party on Feb. 9, Sam Lombardo and Dorothy Langhof, both residents of Antioch, were chosen to reign as king and queen for the day.

Vickey Bock, community chairperson, was in charge of a prize giveaway in which $100 was raised to be donated to the Heart Fund.

Le To He to host dinner

Boy basketball players will be shooting 100 free throws and 25 three-point shots, and girls will shoot 100 free throws.

Players will be looking for sponsors to pledge money for each shot they make during the shoot-a-thon. Funds raised will be used to defray the costs of summer basketball camps and to buy needed equipment for basketball programs.

—LEGAL— NOTICE VILLAGE OF ANTIOCH TAX LEVY INCREASE ORDINANCE FOR FIRE PROTECTION

AN ORDINANCE TO INCREASE THE TAX LEVY

WHEREAS, it has been determined by the Board of Trustees of the VILLAGE OF ANTIOCH that the Tax Levy rate for fire protection within the Village is presently assessed at .15 percent of the value of all taxable real property within the Village as equalized or assessed by the Department of Revenue; and

WHEREAS, pursuant to Chapter 24, Section 11-7-1, Illinois Revised Statutes, (1985), said statutes reads in part as follows:

Division 7, Fire Protection Tax - Cities and Villages of Less than 500,000 11-7-1. Amount

The corporate authorities of any city or village containing less than 500,000 inhabitants may levy, annually, a tax not to exceed .075 percent of the value, as equalized or assessed by the Department of Revenue, of all taxable property therein, to provide revenue for the purpose of fire protection in the municipality. However, municipalities authorized to levy this tax on July 1, 1967 shall have a rate limit of .15 percent, or the limit in effect on July 31, 1969, whichever is greater. This tax shall be in addition to and in excess of all taxes authorized by law to be levied and collected in that municipality and shall be in addition to and in excess of the amount authorized to be levied for general purposes as provided by Section 8-3-1. Amended by P.A. 81-1509, Art. IV, §34, eff. Sept. 26, 1980.

11-7-3. Increase of rates.

In any municipality which is authorized to levy a tax under Section 11-7-1 of this Division 7, the tax rate limit so authorized may be increased to not to exceed .40 percent of the value of all the taxable property in such municipality, provided the proposition for such tax rate increase has been submitted to the electors of that municipality and approved by a majority of those voting on the question. The referendum authorized by the terms of this section may be ordered by the corporate authorities, the question to be certified by the clerk and submitted at an election in accordance with the general election law.

However, any municipality whose rate limitation for fire protection purposes is .30 % on July 1, 1967 may by ordinance increase its rate limit in the future for such purposes to .40 % and any municipality which levied a tax for fire protection purposes in 1960 and whose rate limitation for such purposes is less than .30 percent on July 29, 1969 may by ordinance increase its rate limit to .30 %. A notice of the passage of the ordinance establishing such rate limit at not to exceed .40 % or .30 %, as the case may be, shall be published once in a newspaper having a general circulation in the municipality.

The ordinance shall take effect 30 days after publication of that notice unless within that time a petition, signed by not less than 10% or 1500, whichever is lesser, of the registered voters of the municipality is filed with the municipal clerk requesting the submission to a referendum of the question of whether the municipality shall have the authority to levy a tax for fire protection purposes at not to exceed the rate limit specified in the ordinance. Any such election shall be conducted in accordance with the general election law. Amended by P.A. 81-1489, §26, eff. Dec. 1, 1980.

WHEREAS, the said Village feels it is in the best interests of the Village, and in order to insure adequate fire protection, that the Tax Levy rate shall be increased from .15% to .25%.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT ORDAINED BY THE PRESIDENT AND BOARD OF TRUSTEES OF THE VILLAGE OF ANTIOCH, COUNTY OF LAKE AND STATE OF ILLINOIS, as follows:

Section 4: That this Ordinance shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage, approval and publication in pamphlet form as provided by law. March 15, 'Bombing' run

Geo-Karis targets Iacocca

Now that State Sen. Adeline Geo-Karis is on his case, Lee Iacocca may have met his match. The lady from Zion is taking Iacocca to task for what she considers to be a gold-plated, 100-proof, no-imitation, super-duper fib—that Chrysler committed to five years production at the old AMC plant in Kenosha before deciding to stop building cars this summer.

Iacocca, whose scowl has sent tough union bosses cowering, who can go toe-to-toe with Bob Hope on one-liners and who can and has given the back of his hand to occupants of the Oval Office, now has to deal with a woman on a mission. The main attraction, ladies and gentlemen: Gorgeous Geo vs. Leapin' Lee!

Give Sen. Geo-Karis the first round. She is quoting from a letter sent June 26, 1987, from the Chrysler manager of state relations to the City of Kenosha: "Based upon our current product plans, it is our intention to maintain production of our 'L' body vehicles for at least five years (i.e. 1988 through 1992 model years) in the present American Motors Corp. facilities located in your city."

What has gotten under Geo's skin is the fact that the writer of the letter, James H. Kilroy, is the same person who lobbied her "successfully" (the senator notes ruefully) to support and vote for the $20 million loan from the Illinois General Assembly to help Chrysler, "when Chrysler was way down financially," Sen. Geo-Karis observed in a letter to Iacocca.

The confrontation with Iacocca is made to order for Geo-Karis. She loves the challenge of leading more than 5,000 auto workers, a number of them her constituents, into battle. Geo knows where to bore in, like tweaking corporations about the faculty to "not always worry about fairness and decency," and appealing to the immigrant parent background she shares with Iacocca.

When all the rhetoric and bombast is swept away, Sen. Geo-Karis makes a reasonable request: Why doesn't Chrysler honor its commitment? Prospects are bright for continued stateline economic growth. It probably wouldn't take five years for the dislocated auto workers to be absorbed into the existing labor market. With an accelerated phase-out program, Chrysler might be able to go where it wants to in less than its originally-planned few years—gracefully. What about it, Lee? Go get 'em, Geo!

Enter the 'raw meat' era

Crain's Chicago Business, a breezy business weekly for Chicago produced by the noted business publications family, ventured north last week to, as they say in the ad biz, "do a number" on Lake County. With advertising going for $100 per inch, it was, to put it modestly, a nice number for Crain's.

Editorial matter, though, wrapped around the glitzy ads, didn't do a whole lot to add to available information about the state's third largest county and, by the count of some reliable sources, the nation's second richest county when measured by average family income.

With freelance writers doing most of the writing, Crain's trotted out the obligatory clichés about Lake County—the horsey set, disappearing cornfields, gangster days on the Chain O' Lakes, Waukegan's deteriorating downtown, influx of posh office complexes, Mike Graham's anti-growth stance, "growth is inevitable," "standing in the path of progress," all that kind of stuff, you know. (Aach! We hate that expression, but it seems fitting.)

If anything, Crain's put the spotlight on the fact that Lake County isn't "country" anymore in the eyes of Chicagoans, whether they are working folks seeing a nice place to raise a family or old money families looking for land investments to park some extra cash. The development conglomerates are in the act now and our rolling countryside, what's left of it, is "raw meat." It's not a pretty thought to contemplate.

Impact fee a bargain

Editor:

The village board of Mundelein is right in expecting school districts to assert their interests in tax impact fees from developers to cover additional school costs attributable to development. School districts have been at fault in not asserting these interests.

Mundelein High School makes it known that a tax impact fee equal to the first year's school tax will be expected from developers for each new dwelling unit. For a house with a market value of $150,000 (assessed value $50,000) it would amount to about $1,100 at the present tax rate of .02293.

From the date a house is built to the date the school district first receives taxes on it, the time lapse is in the range of nine to 20 months. School costs are incurred beginning with the date a child first enters school. Until the first taxes are received the child's education is paid for by existing taxpayers.

A school tax impact fee resembles the various other fees collected by the village—water, sewer, and most nearly the annexation fee of .1000. All of these add up to more than .2000.

The cost of educating a high school student, borne by local property taxpayers, is about $4,000, 69 percent of the total cost. In the above illustration for a $150,000 house, the impact fee of $1,100 is about 30 percent of this amount, but on the average, considering it will be higher for some and lower for others, some will generate students and others will not, developments will pay the additional school costs attributable to them.

The tax impact fee is a bargain because it does not include any return for the use of the investment made by existing taxpayers in land buildings and equipment, now valued in excess of $11 million.

The village board's indication of support for the principle of a tax impact fee for schools as a condition for approving developments is good for education.

Other municipalities, and county, please copy.

Let Steve tell about need for organ giving

by BILL SCHROEDER

This is a sequel to a column several weeks ago about Steve Gurevitz, who has dedicated himself to spreading the word about the acute need for organ/tissue donation. Gurevitz' dream is getting a U.S. postage stamp promoting organ/tissue donation as the ideal vehicle for making Americans aware of how they can become donors.

Gurevitz, a collector on the Illinois Tollway and a village trustee of Wauconda, spends part of every day aiding children who need organ transplants, raising funds, getting publicity, etc. He calls it "spreading the word."

"I never get discouraged. I just keep plugging away. Donating organs is important. Saving lives is important. Someone has to spread the word," exclaims Gurevitz.

Scores of patients are waiting for organs. In Illinois, the latest waiting list includes 516 persons in need of kidneys. Other organ needs are as follows: heart, 37; liver, 17; pancreas, 4; heart/lung, 3; lung, 1; small bowel, 1; and corneas, 190.

Steve is in touch with two national organizations involving coordinating honors and recipients. You can call him at home (312)526-8760 to get in touch with the United Network of Organ Sharing (UNOS), a clearing house for all organ procurement agencies, and the American Council on Transplantation (ACT), an umbrella group of all those interested in transplantation.

LOW KEY—Lake County Clerk Linda Hess says she detects a "quiet opposition" to the proposed county executive form of government up for voter consideration in the March 15 primary.

"There isn't a good feeling about the proposition. County Board members are against it and so are county employees, but they won't come out in the open because they're job scared," observed Hess.

"I think there are a lot of people working against the plan, but they're working quietly," is the way Hess assessed the status of the proposal with one month to go.

ENJOYING LIFE—Nice to hear from Bill and Virginia Murphy, former Fox Lake residents, who are now enjoying life at a posh resort they operate at the Wisconsin Dells called Tamarack Village. W.J. Murphy is a former state representative and was a Republican powerhouse in Lake County and Springfield. With 50 inches of snow so far, the Murphys have been busy with a steady stream of renters and owners taking advantage of winter sports.

ONE MAN'S FAMILY—Bob is conducting a campaign to transform pop's wardrobe for spring, cutting outmoded styles. He's on the lookout for wide ties, lapels that don't conform and non-pleated trousers. I'd say he's doing pretty well. I've got a stock of bulky knit sweaters to replace the V-necks popular on campus in the '50s. Favorite plaid sport jackets that were all the rage 15 years ago have been donated to the church rummage sale. Pretty soon I won't recognize myself.

Lake Zurich is central battleground in Dist. 6

WHAT A BATTLEGROUND County Board Dist. 6 is! Incumbent Jerry Beyer of Wauconda has teamed up with Cuba Twp. Sup. Wayne Miller in a battle against incumbent C. Richard Anderson of Barrington and Bobbie O'Reilly.

Last week Anderson and Dist. 6 Board Member Bruce Hansen stopped in to explain the difference between a regular and a maverick Republican. Both have been referred to in this column as "independent Republicans" at times. Both are longtime Republican committeemen who keep getting reelected in their precincts. So both are regular Republicans who have frequent, vocal disputes with the Republican Central Committee.

The campaign in Dist. 6 is not a pretty one. Anderson has nothing good to say about Miller and Miller has nothing good to say about Anderson. O'Reilly or Hansen. Hansen is not up for reelection this year, but is taking an active role in supporting Anderson and O'Reilly.

In Lake Zurich, the County Board race is expected to be a preliminary bout for the municipal election to be held in April, 1989. The old-line establishment is supporting Beyer and Miller, but a younger group is siding with Anderson and O'Reilly.

Hansen, a resident of Lake Zurich, has ambitions that reach far beyond the domain of a County Board seat. He is working to build a base with the new group in Lake Zurich.

If there is a split decision in which both Beyer and Anderson win, watch what the totals are in Lake Zurich. It will have an effect on who will run that village and whether Hansen will, indeed, become the dominant force in the district.

Just Politics

By Charles Johnston

ACCORDING TO DIST. 5 County Board Member Jim Dolan (R-Libertyville), nothing has united the County Board like the effort to create a county executive to be elected at large.

All but two board members, Bob Neal (R-Wadsworth) and Fred Popp (R-Lake Villa), are firmly opposed to the idea. Neal initiated the proposal and is its foremost proponent. Popp has not come down firmly either way. The attitude of other members of the board ranges from reasoned disagreement to hysterical ranting.

All the countywide elected officials, except County Clerk Linda Hess, are in favor of the proposal. Legislators are divided. State Sen. Adeline Geo-Karis (R-Zion) supports the proposal, but State Reps. John Matijevich (D-North Chicago) and Grace Mary Stern (D-Highland Park) oppose it. State Rep. Bob Churchill (R-Lake Villa) won't say anything except, "Vote for Bob Dole."

Opponents are calling the proposal ill-timed, poorly written, confusingly worded, and the product of the feverish ambition of an egomaniac (Bob Neal). They also point out that a constitutional cloud hangs over the legislation.

The constitutional cloud exists because the legislation, just barely two years old, has not yet been used. Any new legislation is questionable until a court has ruled on it.

Certainly, Neal is ambitious. I'm not certain how feverish he is, but I don't understand why some are so angry at him for bringing the issue up. Neal didn't wake up one morning and decide, "By golly, I'm going to see to it that Lake County gets an executive - and that executive is going to be me." No one has that power. He decided to get it on the ballot to let the people decide.

Some can be for the executive and others can be against it, but if it wins, it will not be because Bob Neal decided it should be so. If it loses, it will not be because 22 County Board members decided it should be so.

Let us all remember that on a question of this magnitude, any individual or group may propose, but it is the people, exercising their power, who will make the decision on election day.

THE BATTLE IN Dist. 4 will probably go down to the wire, too. Incumbents Jim Fields (R-Antioch) and Fred Popp (R-Lake Villa) are being challenged by Suzi Schmidt of Lake Villa and Larry Leafblad of Avon Twp.

Both sides are waging a vigorous, clean campaign. While both sides will gladly give anyone an earful on why they are the best qualified to serve, neither side has felt the need to go about ripping into their opponents with reckless abandon.

The rest of the board could learn something by watching how these four candidates are handling their disagreements. If board members could handle their disputes with as much civility and class, there would undoubtedly be less disgust with the board.

Fields and Popp are emphasizing their experience on the board and as township supervisors. They have locked up the support of seven of 11 mayors in Dist. 4 and are hoping for more. They are depending on support from elected officials around the district.

Schmidt and Leafblad are running a grass roots "take it to the people" campaign. Emphasizing environmental issues and stating that current board members have not done the job on zoning violations in unincorporated areas, they are hoping to bring out a large protest vote. They are counting on bringing a large number of energized voters in who have not previously paid much attention to the County Board.

The two camps are running very different campaigns and both sides are working their strategy effectively. Whoever wins, this campaign will have elevated the process - at least in Dist. 4.

All four candidates will appear together at noon on Thursday, Feb. 25, at the Country Squire for the Grayslake Chamber of Commerce meeting. Anyone interested in seeing them at this forum should make reservations with the Chamber at (312) 223-6888.

Sharp decline in teen drunk driving: Edgar

Secretary of State Jim Edgar said new statistics have convinced him that drunk driving among Illinois teenagers is declining.

Overall arrest figures for drunk driving in Illinois during 1987 show a decline of six percent from the previous year. However, the number of arrests for teenagers declined 18 percent, Edgar stressed.

"Teenagers are getting the message; it is wrong to drink and then drive," Edgar said.

"Although we still have a long way to go in the war against this number one killer of our young drivers, we have finally seen a shift in the right direction," he said.

In addition, Edgar said field reports from many police departments throughout the state indicate there are fewer drunk drivers on the road.

Figures released by Edgar's office show there were 2,708 teenagers arrested for drunk driving in 1987 compared to 3,294 in 1986. For all drivers, the decline in DUI arrests was six percent, going from 55,104 in 1986 to 51,797 last year.

"I believe strong laws and hard work by police and other law enforcement agencies, driver education teachers and citizens groups such as SADD (Students Against Driving Drunk), MADD (Mothers Against Drunk Driving), and AAIM (Alliance Against Intoxicated Motorists) have begun to pay dividends."

Factors cited by Edgar include:

- Tougher penalties for persons under 21 convicted of DUI;
- Color-coded, tamper resistant drivers licenses;
- Strong penalties for fraudulently obtaining or using false identification;
- A national drinking age of 21--recently approved in Wisconsin and Iowa.

Moreover, Edgar said many teens now realize the serious consequences of drunk driving--a swift and certain loss of drivers license, as well as hefty auto insurance premiums for years to come.

Other statistics compiled by Edgar's office for 1987 show a similarity to data for 1986: first-time offenders account for 75 percent of DUI's and repeat offenders make up 25 percent; the average blood-alcohol content of drivers with a summary suspension was .18; most drunk driving offenders were men (88 percent), and women accounted for 12 percent of those arrested.

For the first-time offender, Illinois' summary suspension law for driving under the influence of alcohol or drugs calls for a mandatory three-month drivers license suspension for failing a breath or blood test and a six-month suspension for refusing to take the test.

These suspensions occur in addition to action on the criminal charge of drunk driving which carries a minimum one-year revocation of drivers license and up to a $1,000 fine and one year in jail.

State qualifiers

Johnsburg, Grant and Round Lake were the top three wrestling teams in the Northwest Suburban Conference in dual meet action and that talent carried over into the Barrington sectional. All qualified wrestlers for this week's state meet at Champaign.

Sean Kegel won the championship at 98 pounds for Johnsburg, defeating Kwi Seong of Dundee-Crown 4-1.

Bill Eves of Antioch also won a title, defeating Sean Toomey of Dundee-Crown 11-6 at 119 pounds.

Irv Domanski of Grant finished third at 105 pounds, Jerry Chapman of Round Lake was second at 126 and fellow Panther Buddy Estes was third at heavyweight.

Carmel's Jim McLaughlin lost a 5-2 decision to Terry Tapio of Waukegan West at 138 pounds. Ed Shin of Steveson was third at 132 and John Mazur of Grant also finished in third place.

Warren, the only area team to advance to the sectional team round, lost a close 28-21 decision to Dundee-Crown.

NWSC picks best

Northwest Suburban Conference has announced its all-conference girls basketball team.

Tammy Loring of Grant, Nancy Brenner of Grayslake, Carolyn Shine of Johnsburg, Cyndie Donner of Round Lake, Debbie Westergaard of Wauconda and Shanna McCurry of Marengo were unanimous picks. All are seniors except for Brenner, a junior and Donner a sophomore. For Westergaard, it was the third straight year she was named.

Also named were: Denise Kraly of Round Lake and Kris Penza and Cindy Starkey of Marian Central.

Marengo beat out Lake Zurich and Round Lake for the championship with 12-2 record.

Lifters to compete

Powerlifting will again take the sports spotlight in Lake County when the Centre Club hosts the American Drug Free Powerlifting Assn. (AD-FPA) Midwest Teenage-Collegiate Competition on Saturday, Feb. 20. The meet will begin at 10 a.m. in the gym at Libertyville High School.

Powerlifting, considered one of the worlds most physically demanding sports, continues to be unique in the Lake County area. During competition, each powerlifter performs a bench press and squat. The combined totals from each lift, minus the competitor's weight, decides the top three finishers in each division. The teenage division are from 14 to 16 years old and 17 to 19. The collegiate division is up to 25 years. National judges will officiate.

Admission for the general public is $2 per person, payable at the door. There will be no admission fee for senior citizens. Competition will continue throughout the morning and afternoon. Refreshments will be served to participants and spectators.

Soccer sign-up

Lake Zurich Soccer Assn. will be having its sign-up Feb. 19 and 20 at Knigge Center, Rte. 22 and Midlothian in Lake Zurich. Defense, Ingalls pace Warren girls

by STEVE PETERSON
Sports Editor

Alone, the four ingredients may not seem to be significant.

All it took was a little chalk talk, a few steals, some rebounding and senior leadership.

The rewards, though, for Warren's girls basketball team became historic after Warren's 60-36 win over Libertyville in the first round of the Waukegan East sectional. The win not only advanced the Blue Devils, now 25-3 to the sectional finals, but marked the farthest the school has advanced in post-season play.

"I'm very happy. Last year we won our first regional ever and this year we have taken that one game farther," Warren Coach Bruce Campbell said as the Blue Devils celebrated.

Warren had a chance to gain revenge on the team which eliminated it last year, Cary-Grove in the Feb. 18 sectional final game. The Trojans blasted Round Lake 49-30 in the other first round contest.

Warren changed from its standard man-to-man to a 2-1-2 and 2-3 zone for the second half and the switch worked.

Terri Ingalls provided the second half heroics, scoring 14 points and finishing with eight steals. "Terri has been averaging eight to 10 steals a game over the last couple years," Campbell said.

Teri Huntington scored 12 points for Warren, 10 in the close first half. "Teri is a good shooter but she is probably playing out of position. She's been playing underneath the basket but we are trying to get the ball to her outside more," Campbell said.

The contest was the return of point guard Jenny Marker. Marker suffered a knee injury during Warren's tournament opener against Zion-Benton but practiced Monday and started.

"She did an excellent job. It's only been a week since the injury and she was able to pivot and move around,"

Campbell said.

Libertyville lost to Warren by lopsided margins in both regular season games and Warren came in as heavy favorites. But the pesky Wildcats trailed only 12-10 after one and led 20-19 on a Brigid Shannon free throw.

After Warren tied the game, a technical foul called on Libertyville for having six players on the court gave Warren a chance to extend its lead. Ingalls converted both free throws and Crystal Cobb hit a 10-footer for a four-point lead. Warren led 26-22 at halftime.

Sharon Vlasak scored on an offensive rebound to start the second half. Warren then went cold, not scoring for seven straight possessions and Libertyville closed to four.

Ingalls' hoop with 3:40 left in the third quarter sent Warren off on a 12-2 run. That spree gave the Blue Devils a comfortable 40-26 lead after three.

Libertyville closed the gap to 10 points in the first minutes of the final quarter. But then Ingalls stepped in, canned two hoops and brought the lead to 14.

Then Warren and its fans began to start thinking about revenge against Cary-Grove.

Warren finished with 30 rebounds, with Ingalls having eight. Vlasak had seven and Huntington six.

Carmel seeks to upset league leaders at home

Carmel basketball Coach Scott Rosberg would have preferred to be heading into a Feb. 19 game against St. Joseph with a strong performance.

But the important thing was the end results for the Corsairs, who had to go into overtime before beating Notre Dame 38-31.

"It was not pretty, but we got the job done," Rosberg said.

The Corsairs do have the home-court advantage against St. Joseph. Carmel has lost its chance of contention for the East Suburban Catholic Conference leaders, but an upset win would give Carmel a better than .500 league mark and momentum for an away game with Mt. Carmel and the looming regional tournament.

"It was kind of a see-saw end to it," Rosberg said of the finish against Notre Dame.

St. Joseph is coming off a narrow 65-59 win over Joliet Catholic.

In the waning moments of the fourth quarter, Carmel's last-second shot missed. In the overtime, Carmel scored on two baskets by Jeff Kalk and Derek Shaw to put the hosts on the defensive.

"Then they had to play catchup," Rosberg said.

Scott Stahoviak led the winners, now 13-9 and 6-6 in the ESCC, with 12 points. Kevin Knight added 10.

The win snapped a four-game losing streak for Carmel.

In the first half, Notre Dame used its delay offense and Carmel led 10-9 at halftime.

"They held the ball for the first two quarters. They wanted to make this as low a scoring game as possible," Rosberg said.

But Carmel started to solve Notre Dame's sagging defenses in the second half.

Elsewhere in the ESCC race, St. Viator also won in overtime, beating Holy Cross 51-42. Marist bombed St. Patrick 86-45.

Mundelein's girls fall short in regional championship bid

The roles before the championship game at Cary-Grove's regional title were clear.

The host Trojans, a quarterfinalist last year, came into the game as heavy favorites to win their own regional title. Mundelein had struggled in the final weeks of the regular season but had slipped by Carmel in the regional opener. Coach Perry Wilhelm would be the first to admit his team would be the underdog.

In the end, the underdog just about pulled off the upset before losing to the more tournament-experienced Cary-Grove 61-59 in a thriller.

"It's been an emotional season because five of the seniors have been with us for three years. This group has been fun to coach," Wilhelm said.

Mundelein played up to Cary's level for three plus quarters before the Trojans took over in the final three minutes. Julie Demke scored most of her 11 points for Cary-Grove in the second half. Eve Barry led the winners with 16 points and Heidi Nelson had 14. Rachel Lackie had 16 for Mundelein, Chris Churchill 12 and Susan Musselwhite 10.

The game featured two

MHS players falling to injury. Musselwhite was shaken up on a play in the fourth quarter but returned. Ashley Struggles suffered a back injury with :13 left and had to be taken to Good Shepherd Hospital in Barrington.

Mundelein dominated early, leading 20-10 after one. Churchill did most of the damage, scoring 14 of Mundelein's points.

"They fell back into a zone and quit sending her (Musselwhite) to the free-throw line," Wilhelm said.

Cary began to chip away at Mundelein's lead in the second quarter. a bucket by Nelson closed the gap to 24-22 with 5:10 left. Mundelein rebuilt that lead to eight, but the Trojans received a big lift when Laura Demke hit what was ruled a three-pointer as the halftime buzzer sounded. That cut the lead to five, 34-29.

Cary gained its first lead of the game when Nelson connected with 5:14 left in the third quarter. Mundelein again bounced back, this time building a five-point margin on a Lackie hoop with 2:20 left. But just like the end of the second quarter, the hosts got a key basket when Dawn

Coffman converted a steal to trim the lead to 42-39.

The Mustangs seemed to be recovering in the early stages of the fourth quarter. A Kathy Orr basket gave them a 47-43 lead with six minutes left.

Cary-Grove then assumed complete control. They outscored Mundelein 14-4 the rest of the way, holding the Mustangs to one shot. Mundelein gained ties at 49-49 and 51-51, the later coming as guard Kim Shark penetrated for a layup with 3:28 left.

Orr gained Mundelein a third tie at 53, but the Mustangs were held scoreless from Orr's basket at 2:44 to a Churchill layup at :24. Jenny Kempfert scored the final points with just six seconds left.

North Chicago's girls basketball team also lost in a regional championship. The Warhawks' bid for their own regional title fell short 46-45 to Libertyville.

Libertyville's Brigid Shannon's shot with less than 10 seconds left gave the Wildcats their ninth straight regional title.

North Chicago led 15-8 after one and 25-17 at halftime but Libertyville closed the gap to 33-28.

Round Lake, Grant ready for second round bout

Round Lake's boys basketball team, if everything goes according to plan, could lock up the Northwest Suburban Conference basketball championship Feb. 19.

But the Panthers will have to do it against a Grant team which is out for revenge after a first-round loss and will have the home court advantage on its side.

Both teams notched NWSC wins last week - Round Lake overcoming Marian Central 60-49 and Grant holding off Johnsbury 68-60. Round Lake started the week with a 11-1 NWSC record while Grant was 9-2.

Although the Bulldogs beat the Skyhawks in an away game, Coach Tom Maple is hoping for improvement against the Panthers.

"We will have to play better to beat a team the calibre of Round Lake," Maplesaid.

When the two teams last met in January, Grant built up an early lead but Round Lake recovered using a trapping defense to force Grant turnovers. An eight-point first half Grant lead became an 11-point Round Lake advantage by the end of the third quarter. Brian Richardson hurt Grant from the inside with 17 points but Todd Collis had 14, Tim Unroe 11 and Timm Dunn 10.

The Panthers will be coming off a NWSC game in which they had a battle on their hands for three quarters against Marian Central. The host Hurricanes trailed by four after one quarter, by four at halftime and led by one going into the final quarter.

That is when the visitors turned the heat on in Woodstock. They outscored the Hurricanes 22-9 in the final stanza for a 12-point turnaround.

"The kids just realized we needed to buckle down defensively in the fourth quarter. We played man-to-man with a lot more intensity," Round Lake Coach Bob Ward said.

Round Lake's rebounding and free-throw shooting advantages paid off down the stretch. Round Lake outscored Marian 20-6 from the charity stripe and had a 37-25 hefty margin in rebounding. Collis led with 11 and Richardson had nine.

Maple and Ward both feel the key to the showdown will be defense.

"We have to put more emphasis on individual defense," Maple said.

"We have to play pretty good defense. We've played each other so much there is no secrets. We have to get good position," Ward said.

A strong second and third quarter put Grant on top against Johnsbury. The Skyhawks led 15-10 after one, but the Bulldogs outscored the hosts 38-20 over the next 16 minutes. That was more than enough to withstand a late Johnsburg rally.

"It was the second and third quarters that turned it around," Maple said.

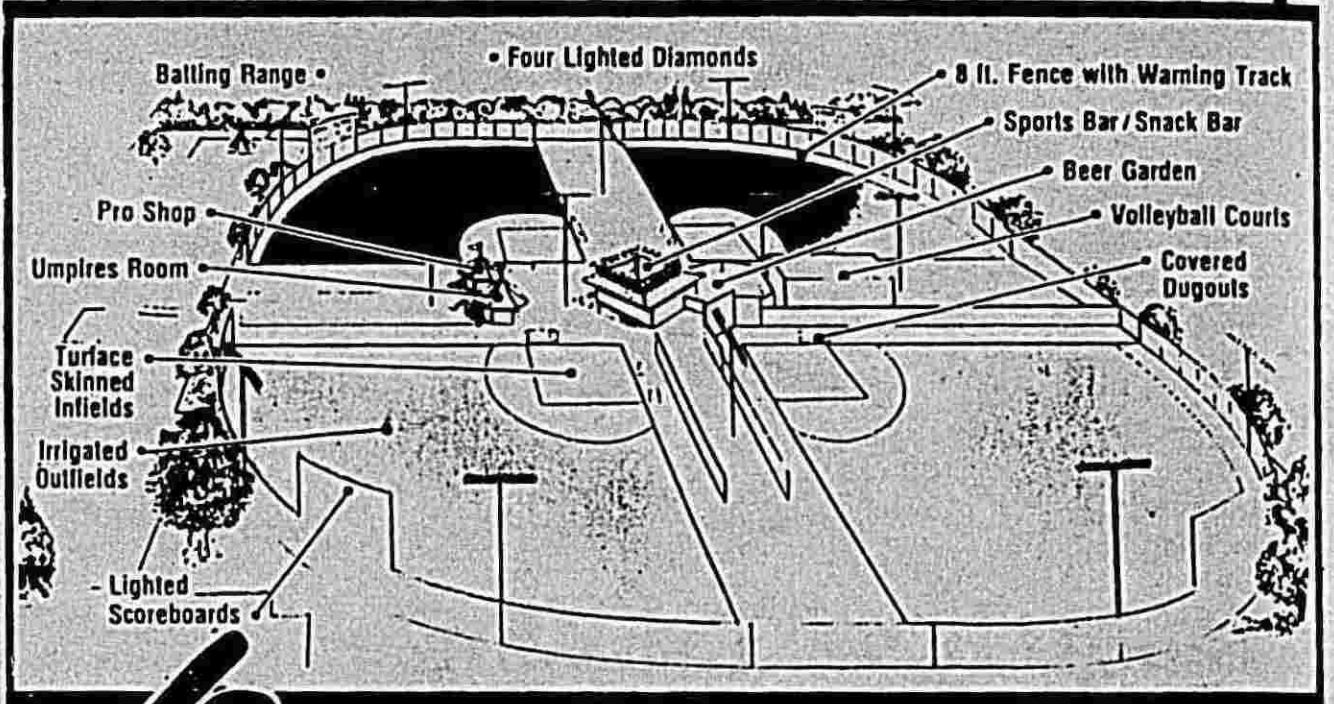

Johnsbury tried to double team Grant's 6-5 senior center Tony Culotta. Fine, the Grant guards say - shut down the middle and we will beat you from outside. Ken Rasbid had 22 points and Kip Paul had a season-high 16. Forward John Wilhelm pumped in 13 and Culotta finished with 10.

Trevor Hart had 22 points and Chris Diedrich 16 for Johnsbury.

Antioch aiming to cure those fourth quarter blues

Don't blame Antioch basketball Coach Don Zeman if he gets a little nervous when the third quarter becomes the fourth quarter against Fenton Feb. 19 or Zion-Benton Feb. 20.

Especially if the Sequoits have the lead.

For the last three of four games, Antioch has played well for three quarters only to fall short in the finale and lose.

Antioch lost to Libertyville 63-62 and North Chicago 66-64 last week, dropping to 7-15 overall, 6-9 in the NSC.

"We have to prove to ourselves we can take control at the end of the game," Zeman said.

Antioch won handily the first time out against Fenton, but the Sequoits will have to stop the Bison's Mario Miller. Fenton gave Zion-Benton a run for its money in the second half before falling 72-53.

In Zion, the Sequoits will be facing a team which is still harboring thoughts of a NSC title. Zeman is hoping the home crowd will spur his forces onto an upset win and Antioch will have its say as to who wins the title.

Stevenson aiming to slow down North Chicago's Coles

In the majority of basketball games, good, solid defense makes the difference.

Just ask Stevenson's basketball team.

The Patriots know that going into the Feb. 19 game at North Chicago that they will have to stop North Chicago's hot shooting James Coles if they have a chance at winning.

"They have some good outside shooters," Stevenson Coach George Katich said.

The Pats were at the other end of good defensive showings in a 51-50 loss to Libertyville and a 64-56 loss to North Suburban Conference co-leader Lake Forest last week. The two defeats dropped Stevenson to 7-8 in the NSC and 9-13 overall.

Against Lake Forest, the Patriots were without point guard Jim Neary, who was making a scheduled college visit. (The Lake Forest game had to be switched from Thursday to Saturday).

The Scouts racked up 22 turnovers against the Patriots and used that defensive pressure to make up for an off night on offense. "Turnovers really hurt us," Katich said.

"We were trying different kinds of pressure defense," Lake Forest Coach Bob Olsen said.

Lake Forest's top scorer, Rob Pelinka, finished with 28 points, but 21 came in the second half. Doug Cayce, who averages more than 15 points a game, was held to nine.

"Cleveland Tyson did a real good job on him (Pelinka)," Katich said.

On the bright side for the Pats, Todd Wales, a 6-3 sophomore, continued to show improvement and led his team's scoring with 15 points. Tyson and Brent Dahl both had 11.

Lake Forest looked like it had matters locked up when a Pelinka layup made it 41-29 with 2:39 left in the third quarter. But the host Patriots rallied. Two Tyson free throws cut the gap to 46-38 after three.

Stevenson started the fourth quarter strong, cutting the margin even further. A baseline jumper by Tyson closed the gap to 53-49 with 3:46 left.

But then Lake Forest showed why they are co-leaders. After gaining a six-point edge, Lake Forest made five of six free throws to keep the lead.

Pelinka started the game missing his first five shots and Cayce five of six, but Stevenson committed five first quarter turnovers and the Scouts held a 16-12 lead after one.

Lake Forest built up an 11-point cushion in the second quarter. A Pelinka hoop with 4:37 left gave the visitors a 25-14 edge. Stevenson fought back, trimming the lead to 29-25 at halftime.

Libertyville 51, Stevenson 50.

Libertyville came into the game with just three wins in NSC play but shocked the Patriots at Prairie View.

Stevenson led by five points with less than a minute to go. But Libertyville, behind a last-second shot by Shawn Stanek after a controversial call, pulled it out with a 6-0 run.

Tyson had 16 points and Neary 13 for Stevenson.

Best season

Chicago Bears' Coach Mike Ditka's best season for receptions in number was 75 with the Bears in 1964. The Hall-of-Famer had 1,076 yards in receptions in his rookie year of 1961.

AAUW invites grant applicants

Applications are now available for the second annual Ruth Hathorne Memorial Grant for area teachers.

Established in 1986 by the Waukegan Branch of the American Assn. of University Women (AAUW), the fund awards up to $500 annually for one or more mini-grants to public school teachers for projects on international relations.

The fund honors Ruth Hathorne, a charter member of the Waukegan AAUW and a long-time Waukegan resident active in public education. She died in 1985, after teaching in Waukegan schools and serving on the school board for many years.

Hathorne was also active in many civic organizations, including AAUW, YWCA, the Methodist Church and the League of Women Voters. Aside from her community involvement, one of her main concerns was international peace.

To be eligible, teachers must live in Waukegan, North Chicago, Zion, Winthrop Harbor, Kenosha, Antioch, Gurnee, Round Lake or Lake Bluff. Applications are available at the public schools in those districts, or from project coordinator Helen Scott, (312) 336-1795. Applications must be postmarked March 1 and may be mailed to Scott at 4903 Darlene Dr., Gurnee, 60031.

Inequities affect thousands of women

by CONRAD MEIER
Meier Insurance Services

YOU SHOULD KNOW...that the Retirement Equity Act of 1984 was designed to address the private plan inequities that affected thousands of women.

While the act does not eliminate all the shortcomings and does not address PUBLIC pensions, it does offer some ways for women to protect themselves.

—Recognizing that many women enter the work force early and interrupt careers to raise children, the law lowers from 22 to 18 the age at which pension plans begin counting service for vesting purposes. It allows employees who have worked FEWER than five years to take up to five years off without losing pension credit for earlier service.

—The act authorizes (but does not require) courts to treat a spouse's pension as an asset of the marriage which can be divided as part of a divorce settlement or included in the terms of a qualified domestic relations order. It also allows the court to award SURVIVORS' BENEFITS to parties in the divorce.

—The law makes survivors' benefits automatic should the worker die and the spouse survive. This protection begins when vesting has occurred. BEWARE: This means your spouse must secure your WRITTEN and NOTORIZED permission to remove you as beneficiary of the pension.

Our next column will cover some of the KEY questions women should ask about their pension plan rights.

We thought you should know.

CLC conference deals with artificial intelligence

The College of Lake County will host a videoconference, "Practical Applications of Artificial Intelligence," on Thursday, Feb. 18, at the Grayslake campus auditorium from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. Intended for the practicing engineer interested in the use of artificial intelligence to solve engineering problems, the presentation will describe the use of knowledge-based expert systems in current commercial production programs, focusing on programs that serve as engineering design aids.

It will also include a discussion of considerations in choosing tasks for this approach and issues involved in building knowledge-based systems.

A main segment of the conference will be devoted to three case studies describing systems that perform engineering design tasks, including: mapping tasks that transform a computer's high level specification into a concrete design; critiquing high level specification into a concrete design; critiquing standard cell chip designs; and scheduling configurations or equipment in a flight simulation lab. The videoconference is presented by the Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers.

For more information and details on how to register, call CLC's Glen Morgan at (312) 223-3615 or Howard Cannon at the University of Illinois at (815) 987-7427.

Bartenders enter 1988 Ugliest Contest

Joe McClure, bartender at Cricket's, Chicago, is the three-time grand prize winner of the Multiple Sclerosis Ugliest Bartender Challenge, sponsored by the Chicago-Northern Illinois Chapter, National Multiple Sclerosis Society.

He's also the man to beat in 1988 for the hundreds of bartenders from Chicago and suburbs presently enrolling in the contest which began on Feb. 12 in the 17 counties encompassed by the MS Chapter.

In the first year of the contest, McClure raised $4,500 and that looked like a very respectable sum. In 1986, the figure was $14,500 and in 1987, the total grew to $21,250. How has he done it? Cricket's is not a bar where a stunt such as "throw a pie in the bartender's face" for a dollar would fit in with the surroundings.

He has used several approaches including personally addressed solicitation letters to customers as well as generally making it known that he's in the contest.

This year, McClure's goal is $80,000. He wants not only to be the top Chicago winner, but to exceed the goal of $75,000 set by a female Columbus, Ohio, bartender who has been top fundraiser in the contest nationally.

All bartenders in the contest earning more than 10,000 votes at $1 a vote will qualify for a trip for four to the MS Ugliest Bartender Convention to be held in Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., where they will meet the winners from other MS chapters.

Other prizes awarded at various levels of funds raised include beach bags, satin jackets, beach towels, and at 1,000 votes, a trophy for the bar. In addition, trophies or plaques go to the top bar in each of six divisions—far north, near north, west, south, Loop, and "past grand prize winners."

For more information about the MS Ugliest Bartender Challenge, call Bernadette Rainsford at the MS office, (312)922-8000.

The goal for the 1988 contest is $145,000. All who raise the minimum 100 "votes" receive an invitation to the "Ugly Ball" March 20 at the Woodfield Hilton, Arlington Heights, when awards will be made to winners in area divisions.

Over 200 Chicago and suburban bars and bartenders are registered in the Ugliest Bartender Challenge benefiting multiple sclerosis research and community services offered by the Chicago-Northern Illinois Chapter, National Multiple Sclerosis Society.

Contest dates are now through March 7. Each bartender uses various promotional ideas to earn "votes" at $1 each from customers which count toward winning the title "Ugliest Bartender." UGLY in this contest is defined "Understanding, Generous, Lovable You."

A midcontest party open to the public and featuring a "bachelor bid" auction emceed by Miss Illinois Cindy Hodgkins will be held from 6 to 9 p.m. Friday, Feb. 26, at the Limelight, 632 N. Dearborn St., Chicago.

Some of the area bartenders who have already entered the contest are from: Celebrities, Waukegan; Milwaukee Roadhouse Bar & Grill, Libertyville; Allstars, Waukegan; and Herman's Rest A While, Barrington.

Model club to hold 11th open house

The Fox Valley Division of the National Model Railroad Assn. will hold its 11th annual openhouse and model railroad show, "High-Wheeler '88," on Saturday and Sunday, March 5 and 6.

There will be model railroad club, railroad museum, railroad historical-technical society displays and several operating model railroads from "Z" scale up to "LGB."

In the commercial display area, there will be exhibits of the most current model railroad equipment available for viewing or sale by manufacturers, distributors and the local hobby shops. In addition, the Fox Valley Division Company Store will be open.

Added attractions include continuous movies of prototype U.S. railroad operations and a local snack bar to satisfy anyone's hunger.

Admission by donation is as follows: $3 for adults, $1 for senior citizens and children under 13 years of age. Babies-in-arms and strollers are free. For additional information, call (312)991-1052.

Concert association to host Bayanihan Co.

The Lake County Community Concert Assn. will present the Bayanihan Philippine Dance Co. as the third in its concert series at 8 p.m. Feb. 27 in Waukegan's West High School auditorium.

Admission to the concert is by season membership subscription only. No individual concert tickets are available, but subscriptions for the 1988-89 series will be sold at the concert.

Comprised of 28 dancers and 12 instrumentalists, the Bayanihan first appeared on the international scene at the Brussel's World Fair in 1958.

ROCK TRACKS

By Rob Ferrus

Billy Idol's Vital Idol has gone platinum, which makes the record the first compilation of dance remixes ever to hit the million-selling level. The album, a collection of the dub mixes Idol has made since 1982, has already racked up several other firsts. It was recently the first LP of dance mixes ever to go top-ten on the pop album charts, and the first to generate a number-one single, Billy's version of Tommy James' "Mony, Mony."

Dave Stewart of the Eurythmics held a press conference recently in New York to announce the theatrical release of the group's new 90-minute performance film, Eurythmics Live, which premiered January 18th at The Palace.

Following Stewart's press conference, the film was screened for an audience which included Tom Petty, ELO's Jeff Lynne, Jodie Foster and Stewart's wife, Bananarama's Siobhan Fahey. The video Eurythmics Live will be released on Polygram Music Video in mid-April.

John Cougar Mellencamp's tour of Europe has sold out every date well in advance. In Paris, where the tour was due to kick off at Le Zenith, Mellencamp discovered the concert was so popular that local theater managers continued selling tickets after every available seat was gone. The Indiana rocker asked that hall officials close the box office. Nonetheless, 800 Parisian fans watched the show standing in the aisles. The crowd signalled their appreciation by singing along with songs from beginning to end, in English. Their particular favorite seemed to be "Small Town."

Antique buffs, collectors to gather at Hawthorn

Antique buffs, collectors of nostalgia or people looking for an attractive antique, will find these and more at Antique Showcase, Feb. 18 through 21 at Hawthorn Center in Vernon Hills.

Browse and shop from the treasures of more than 50 leading antique dealers who will be exhibiting and selling unique collections of rare and fine antiques as well as small collectibles for fun and fancy. Hundreds of beautiful collectibles, in all collecting categories, will be available for sale at this show.

During this four-day bonanza, there will be a number of specialists on hand offering services, as well as giving demonstrations and tips on the upkeep and refinishing of furniture.

Anyone having any chipped or broken crystal, Mr. Chips, crystal repair specialist will repair precious glassware for a nominal charge.

Serious collectors, beginning collectors or lovers of nostalgia will enjoy many hours of strolling down memory lane. Visitors to the Antique Showcase will find beautiful hand-carved Americana furniture, old wicker, antique beds and dresser sets, dining room tables and chairs, hutches, dry sinks and more.

There will also be elaborately detailed old-fashioned silverware, colorful hand-painted china and glassware of all kinds.

Dave Clark, an expert in crystal and glass repair will be present at Hawthorn Center's Antique Showcase. Mr. Chips has perfected a process for bonding broken glass and crystal so the pieces may become functional once again. Visitors to the showcase are invited to bring their damaged glassware and crystal for repair.

If collecting things for fun and fancy is anyone's cup of tea, they should ask design coordinator Georgia Maisel where to put those precious antiques and collectibles.

During the Antique Showcase, Georgia will show her expertise in the use of antiques and collectibles in various decorating environments during the seminars scheduled on the Northwalk, lower level on Thursday, Feb. 18 at 7 p.m., Friday, Feb. 19 at 7 p.m., and Sunday, Feb. 21 at noon.

Rehearse NSC chorus festival

On Monday, Feb. 29, at 7 p.m. the 500-voice North Suburban Conference Festival chorus will take center stage at Libertyville High School's gymnasium.

Each year the NSC Choir Festival brings together choir students from Antioch, Warren, Libertyville, Lake Forest, Mundelein, Zion, Niles, Stevenson and Fenton High Schools in a grand celebration of song.

This year Dr. Karle Erickson, director of choral studies and professor of music at Gustavus Adolphus College, St. Peter, Minn., will conduct the mass choir.

Rehearsals, which begin at 10 a.m., fill most of the day. The choir members make new friends while they learn through singing. These rehearsals will culminate in a performance Monday evening of the Vivaldi "Gloria" and a selection of Broadway melodies, spirituals and patriotic tunes.

Eight students from each of the participating high schools are selected for an honors choir. Honors choir members meet on the Sunday prior to festival for an extra rehearsal with Dr. Erickson.

Tickets, which are available at the door, are $2 for adults and $1 for students and senior citizens.

Museum closes for facelift

The Lake County Museum will be closed during the month of February while it undergoes some renovations and conservation measures.

Curator of Exhibits Hans Gill said renovations are difficult to make when the museum is open to the public, which is normally every day of the week.

"We have chosen to close during our slow month," Gill said. "Last year, we closed during another slow month, January, for the installation of an exhibition project."

The museum will reopen on Tuesday, March 1.

Puerto Vallarta combines sophistication and charm

by MARY O'BRIEN

Laid-back but sophisticated, Puerto Vallarta attracts an international group of "sand and sunners" who stay in luxury seaside hotels, parasail, ride horses on the beach, and eat in some of the finest restaurants in the world. They buy Mexican bargains in chic shops that line cobblestoned streets and handmade souvenirs at the Mercado Municipal, walk along the seaside at Malecon, and stop to watch some of the most spectacular sunsets in this hemisphere.

Lying between the rugged Sierra Madre to the east and the miles of beautiful beaches which line the Bahia de Banderas (Bay of Flags), one of the deepest and

No need to postpone a cruise

Travel sections in magazines and newspapers have all been telling us that 1988 is the year of the cruise. A vacation of three days to three weeks on a ship to anywhere is the hottest vacation out there. There are big, new ships on the seas and more abuilding in shipyards around the world.

And cruise prices have been coming down dramatically. A good cruise includes all the extras in the price of a ticket, and when you consider what you might spend for airfare or gas, hotels and meals, shows, entrance fees and other extras, a cruise is a bargain vacation.

You get the relaxation and sociability of life on board, plus the advantage of seeing more than one of this world's exciting vacation destinations without having to worry about extra costs, reservations or unpacking bags.

Thirty years ago, people talked about taking a cruise when they retired. Not any more!

Seek staff for camp

The Northeastern Illinois Special Recreation Assn. (NISRA) is seeking staff for their summer day camp program which serves special education students ages three to 21.

Individuals with at least one year of college (or full-time work) and prior experience with special education students are encouraged to apply for camp positions. Volunteers ages 14 and older will also be needed. For more information, please contact Mary Berman at (312) 566-2277.

loveliest bays in Mexico, Puerto Vallarta was a remote and rustic fishing village only 20 years ago.

The nearby but still remote Mismaloya Beach became the locale for the film "The Night of the Iguana" starring Richard Burton. During the shooting, Burton built a house for Elizabeth Taylor, which was connected to his own by a bridge over the street. To this day, it remains a tourist attraction, for their torrid love affair was a much-publicized scandal in the 1960's.

The River Cuale divides Puerto Vallarta into northern and southern sections. About two thirds of the city is on the northern side where the older hotels, commercial district and "restaurant row" are located. At both ends are the newer hotels, none of them further from town than a $2.50 cab ride. All the luxurious new hotels have poolside bars, excellent restaurants and beaches which, like all beaches in Mexico, are open to the public.

Brunch on the beach at the Sheraton is a Puerto Vallarta tradition. In fact, dining deliciously is a favorite indoor (and outdoor) sport.

Lunch is served by hard-hatted waiters for $5 to $7 apiece at Carlos O'Brien's Bar & Grill & Pawn Shop, which overlooks Malecon Beach in the heart of town. Or try the El Dorado or La Palapa right on the town beach south of the river. A deluxe eatery is the Posado Rio Cuale, which consistently makes the travel magazines' list of Mexico's top 10 restaurants.

Despite its relatively recent sophistication, Puerto Vallarta has retained its Mexican village charm with picturesque plaza, whimsical church and the small rock island in the middle of the Cuale where children play and women beat their laundry on a rocky shore.

Diet

Remember this simple rule of eating: "Garbage in, garbage out." To fight the effects of stress, the body must have a dependable and quality energy supply. Begin each day with a good breakfast, avoid caffeine as much as possible, and try reaching for an apple or carrot instead of a candy bar for snacking.

The real story on advertised airfares

by JIM WARNKEN

President, North Star Travel, Inc.

I'm going to try something that should only be attempted by a professional: I'm going to explain advertised airfares.

You see an advertisement in which Flycheap Airlines is offering airfare to Florida for $79. You call your travel agent and say, "Send me to Miami on Flycheap." Are you going to get that ticket for $79? Maybe.

Most of the time, that $79 is half of a round trip ticket and cannot be purchased one way. No problem, you say. You wanted to get back to Chicago by summer anyway. OK, add the $5 Chicago fuel surcharge, and you may have a roundtrip ticket for $163. I say "may" because we now enter the next phase of "creative advertising."

Flycheap Airlines doesn't sell every seat on every flight at the advertised price. How many seats are there at the low fare? That changes hourly. With the help of computers, airlines monitor not only how their seats are selling, but those of their competitors.

If United and American have sold all their low-priced seats on flights with similar times going to the same places as Flycheap, Flycheap is likely to pull most or all of its low price seats. If the reverse is true, Flycheap will add more of the cheap seats.

I know of no other industry allowed to advertise that way. But for now, at least, that's the way the airlines do it.

To further complicate matters, your trip must meet certain rules to get the low fare.

In almost all cases you must stay over a Saturday night, this eliminates the business traveler. You must purchase the ticket anywhere from two to 30 days in advance, depending on the destination. Most of the time, you must travel between noon on Monday and noon on Thursday.

The next time you see someone walking around a little dazed, have pity. It is probably a travel agent who has spent the last week trying to explain the low fares to Florida!

"Love doesn't make everything perfect! It ruins your life!" Nicolas Cage makes that declaration to Cher in "Moonstruck", and that statement, I think, is what this wonderfully entertaining movie is all about.

Is there anyone who hasn't, at some time in life, been irresistibly attracted to the "wrong" person at the worst possible time for reasons that they can't quite explain? That is what happens to Loretta Castorini (Cher), when she meets the man who is supposed to become her future brother-in-law, Ronnie Cammareri (Cage).

The casting here is perfect. Nicolas Cage, who seemed terribly miscast in "Peggy Sue Got Married", is much more convincing in the role he plays here. And Cher, of course, having played a lesbian, a devoted, motorcycle-riding mother, a witch, and a lawyer, has become the most versatile leading lady around. As the Italian Loretta, she again proves able to play anything convincingly.

The rest of the cast is also outstanding. Danny Aiello is good as the man Loretta is supposed to marry. Vincent Gardenia and Olympia Dukakis practically steal the show more than once as Loretta's parents, Cosmo and Rose.

The dialogue in this witty script just crackles with humor mixed with clever philosophical insights on romance. My favorite exchanges include Loretta's speech in which she characterizes Ronnie as a wolf, and the scene where he turns the tables by telling her why she is attracted to wolves.

Another very entertaining diversion is Rose's search for the reason why men chase women. Dukakis, a classy and talented actress, is truly outstanding in this role of a wise woman who "knows who she is".

If I have any complaint with the story it is only a minor one about how the central problem gets neatly resolved at the end just a little too quickly and easily to believe.

Yet, overall, "Moonstruck" is one of the most romantic films to come along in awhile, and a good one for anyone who's ever fallen in love with someone they're not "supposed to".

Someone once said that a storybook ending has no place in the contemporary world. If true, that person has yet to see "Moonstruck".

The film, a true contemporary love story, comprises all the components of a relationship in the true spirit of romanticism: humor, sorrow, conflict and, of course, love.

The film revolves around two extremely Italian families, the Cammareris and the Castorinis. Loretta Castorini (Cher) accepts a marriage proposal from Johnny Casterini (Daniel Aiello) as if she were being asked to clean the sink.

"Yeah, sure I'll marry you. But where's the ring. You got to give me a ring, you know," she says with a wha-a-matta-you monotone.

Johnny must wait for his mother to die before he can marry Loretta. While Johnny flies off to Rome to tell his mother about the marriage, Loretta nonchalantly tells her mother (Olympia Dukakis) that she is going to marry Johnny.

As a request from Johnny, Loretta is asked to invite Ronnie, (Johnny's brother) to the wedding. Johnny can't ask him because "of the bad blood between them".

Once Ronnie (Nicolas Cage) and Loretta meet, the sparks hit the screen. "It is the moon that brings the woman to the man," says Loretta's grandfather.

Once Loretta and her family realize the new situation, "mama-mias" fly all over the place like pizzas in northwestern Chicago.

What makes the film wonderful to watch is the fast-paced scenes, the sharp-jab dialogue and the contemporary setting.

Most romantic movies take place on the beach (Summer of '42) or involve the extraordinary (Rocky). But "Moonstruck" portrays the commonplace family in Brooklyn. They're just regular people...which is the romantic clutch that will not let you leave your seat.

If you didn't take your Valentine sweetheart to see this film, you had better do it before she meets your brother.

WXLC to give away $100,000 in prizes

WXLC, after giving away over $100,000 in cash and prizes in 1987, is out to make this year even bigger. The station is sending its entire full-time airstaff on a four day, three night trip to Nassau in the Bahamas, and taking along five lucky listeners and their guests.

Winners will depart from O'Hare Airport Friday, May 6 and return Monday, May 9. Included are airfare on TWA and a stay at the lively Nassau Beach Hotel.

As always, "the winning is easy on WXLC." All listeners need to do is listen for WXLC to give away invitations to any of the five WXLC Spring Break '88 parties, to be held at Mitch's Tavern on Belvidere Rd., Park City; Manfred's, at the Holiday Inn of Mundelein; Celebrity Sports Bar in Waukegan; and Kristof's Entertainment Center in Round Lake Beach.

All those at each party who are participating in the contest are eligible for dinner and lots of prizes, including one of five trips for two to the Bahamas.

For complete rules and details, listen to 102.3, WXLC.

Boehm leaves Adler Center, Douglas will take over

The board of directors of the David Adler Cultural Center (DACC) in Libertyville has accepted the resignation "with reluctance and regret" of the center's longtime president, Joanne Boehm. Boehm has been named executive consultant to the DACC in response to her request for reduced responsibilities.

"Given Mrs. Boehm's critical role in the center for so many years," a DACC spokesperson said, "It is a hard decision for the board, but family responsibilities must take precedence."

Diane Douglas has been named new DACC executive director effective Feb. 1. Douglas is the former director of the Chicago Center for Ceramic Art.

Boehm, a native of Chicago's northwest side, moved to Libertyville in 1950. She first became involved with the Adler home in 1971 when the village requested citizen and group involvement to help save the house.

She played a key role in securing outside funds to rehabilitate the property. In 1979, Boehm obtained the assistance of William McCormick Blair, known as Chicago's elder statesman of cultural leadership, in establishing the David Adler Cultural Center.

Under the guidance as president for the past seven years, the center has developed into an important educational, historical and cultural resource for Lake County.

Included among her accomplishments: the merger of Libertyville's Art Center and School of Folk and Old Time Music to become the corporation known as the Adler Cultural Center; a fivefold increase in budget to over $300,000; an increase in foundation, business and individual contributions to over $53,000; a dramatic growth in public attendance at DACC-sponsored events; a 500-percent growth in Cultural Center memberships; and developing the center into one of the top 25 tourist attractions for the Lake County area.

To Boehm, the David Adler Cultural Center was "a living memorial to David Adler...providing for children and adults, now and in the future, a special home to view and experience the arts."

Douglas comes to DACC from the Chicago Center for Ceramic Art. Prior to coming to work for the Chicago Center, Douglas served as associate curator of exhibitions at the John Michael Kohler Arts Center in Sheboygan, Wis.

Douglas earned her bachelor's degree from Brown University and was awarded a master of arts degree from Henry Francis du Pont Winterthur Museum and the University of Delaware.

In addition to her administrative responsibilities at the Center for Ceramic Art, she has written extensively for art journals and serves as peer site reviewer and grant award panelist for the National Endowment for the Arts in Washington, D.C.

A DACC Board spokesperson said, "Ms. Douglas brings to Central Lake County and the Adler Center excellent education and experience in cultural center programs, good fund-raising abilities and experience, and a strong feeling for the role of community-based cultural centers."

CLC to host poet Dobyns room B265 from 3 to 5 p.m., followed by a poetry reading in the auditorium at 7 p.m.

On Friday, Dobyns will again read his poetry in the auditorium from 10 to 11 a.m. He will then give a lecture in the Blue Lecture Hall from 11 a.m. to noon followed by open discussion until 1 p.m.

ASK TONI

Lillian Gish is recovering from 'Whales of August'

By Toni Reinhold

I've been told that Lillian Gish is originally a Canadian. Is this true? How can I contact her? - G.W.J., Chatham, Ontario, Canada

Lillian Gish

Gish was born in Springfield, Ohio, in 1893. Her publicist says she is resting after having co-starred with Bette Davis in the film "Whales of August," which is expected to go into general release later this year. Write to her in care of ICM, 40 West 57th St., New York, NY 10019.

Is it true that the rock 'n' roll singer Dion is from New York City? I'm collecting rock 'n' roll memorabilia and I would love to know if this is true. - F.N., Poughkeepsie, N.Y.

Dion, who is famous for such songs as "Teen-ager in Love" and "Run-around Sue," grew up in Belmont, an Italian neighborhood of the Bronx. His backup group, the Belmonts, was named after the area. They got their start performing on street corners there on sultry summer nights.

Who starred in the original version of the film "A Star Is Born"? How many remakes have there been? - A.B., Chauvin, La.

The original film "A Star Is Born" (1937) starred Janet Gaynor and Frederic March. The first remake, starring Judy Garland and James Mason, was released in 1954. It featured songs by Harold Arlen and Ira Gershwin, most notably "The Man That Got Away." The second remake, released in 1976, starred Barbra Streisand and Kris Kristofferson. Streisand and composer Paul Williams won an Oscar for its theme song, "Evergreen." Streisand wrote the music, Williams the lyrics.

Where can I write to John James of "Dynasty"? - M.H.S., Henderson, Texas

Send mail to James, who plays Jeff Colby, in care of "Dynasty," Box 60257, Los Angeles, CA 90060.

(Send your letters to Ask Toni, United Feature Syndicate, 200 Park Ave., Room 602, New York, N.Y. 10166. Due to the large volume of mail, personal replies cannot be given.)

THIS WEEK'S HOROSCOPE

BY SALOME

Weekly Tip: Start things off on a constructive note.

Aries (Mar. 21-Apr 19) If there's someone around who tends to get under your skin, make sure you go out of your way to avoid this one. Don't act rashly when making decisions.

Taurus (Apr. 20-May 20) Using tact and diplomacy are of the utmost importance now. Do not let a friend change your modus operandi just yet; it is working more than you know.

Gemini (May 21-June 20) If your mate is expecting you to keep certain promises, do not let him or her down. New projects can go quite well at this time if you plan carefully.

Cancer (June 21-Jul 20) You may have made some plans for a good time, but forces are working against this. Instead of showing disappointment, display your loyalty.

Leo (Jul 21-Aug. 22) You should work vehemently now to finish up any projects. If you want to investigate new options, that's fine; however, make no commitments now.

Virgo (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) There will be bumps in the smooth road you are coasting on now, so prepare yourself. If you hold your ground and speak rationally, you will do fine.

Libra (Sept. 23-Oct. 22) You must treat any new acquaintances with care and respect; you can never tell how they may relate to you. Keep your family life in mind now.

Scorpio (Oct. 23-Nov. 21) Don't be in too much of a hurry to answer letters you've received. Effective communication is key now. You must try to ease any professional tension.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22-Dec. 21) You can handle your career work better if you pay more attention to details. Set up a new budget which will suit your needs and your paycheck!

Capricorn (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Private matters may take up most of your time today, but don't let them keep you from handling any important business arrangements. Be wise.

Aquarius (Jan. 20-Feb. 18) Keep that plan for gaining greater success confidential. Do something which your mate enjoys, even though you have many other preferences.

Pisces (Feb. 19-Mar. 20) If you've been hanging on to past events recently, you must now let go and move on to current events. Try to understand the people around you.

If you were born this week, you have that tendency to be very conventional and serious, but also have the advantage of a wonderful sense of humor when it is tapped. You would certainly enjoy life more fully if you moved closer to the social scene; this will bring many positive forces your way.

HEALTH & FITNESS

Something for everyone in Y's winter session

Winter Session II, a seven-week schedule of fitness and exercise classes, is about to begin at the Lake County Family YMCA, 2000 Western Ave., Waukegan.

The Y offers a comprehensive selection of fitness classes as well as a variety of nautilus and aerobic machines to get both muscles and cardiovascular system in shape.

And fitness isn't limited to Y members. At the Y, non-members are encouraged to participate in the broad range of classes offered.

"Our instructors are the best," said Bev Orchard, health enhancement director. "All of our instructors have to pass an in-house exam to receive YMCA Feeling Fit certification."

The Y's instructors spend eight weeks in training. Further time is spent as an understudy, working with other instructors. In addition, each instructor must earn YMCA national certification. Nationally, there are two certification levels available—Basic Fitness Leader I and Fitness Leader II. During the course of the year, each of the YMCA's instructors are expected to maintain their certification by attending seminars and workshops.

The Lake County YMCA offers fitness classes to meet everyone's schedule. Classes begin at 6:15 a.m. and run throughout the day. The last class is scheduled to begin at 8 p.m.

Starter Fitness is a progressive program, beginning very slowly with the basics of exercise. Gradually, as the body develops strength and conditioning, the class moves on to a higher level of exercise.

This class meets from 9 to 9:45 a.m. on Monday, Wednesday and Friday of each week at the YMCA. It is also offered at Victory Memorial Hospital from 4:45 to 5:45 p.m. An evening session is also scheduled at the Y from 7 to 7:45 p.m. on Tuesday and Thursday.

In addition to Starter Fitness, the YMCA offers a series of aerobic fitness classes which are full body workouts for intermediate and advanced level students. Classes include cardiovascular training utilizing low and high impact aerobic movement, upper and lower body shaping exercises with hand weights, and abdominal toning. Classes are scheduled throughout the week.

Physical Conditioning is an intensive cardiovascular conditioning program which includes a training session on the track and muscular endurance and strength conditioning exercises. The class also includes stretching techniques to enhance flexibility for optimal athletic performance.

Early morning physical conditioning classes will be held from 6:15 to 7 a.m. Monday, Wednesday and Friday. Classes are also provided from 7:15 to 8 p.m. Monday and Wednesday.

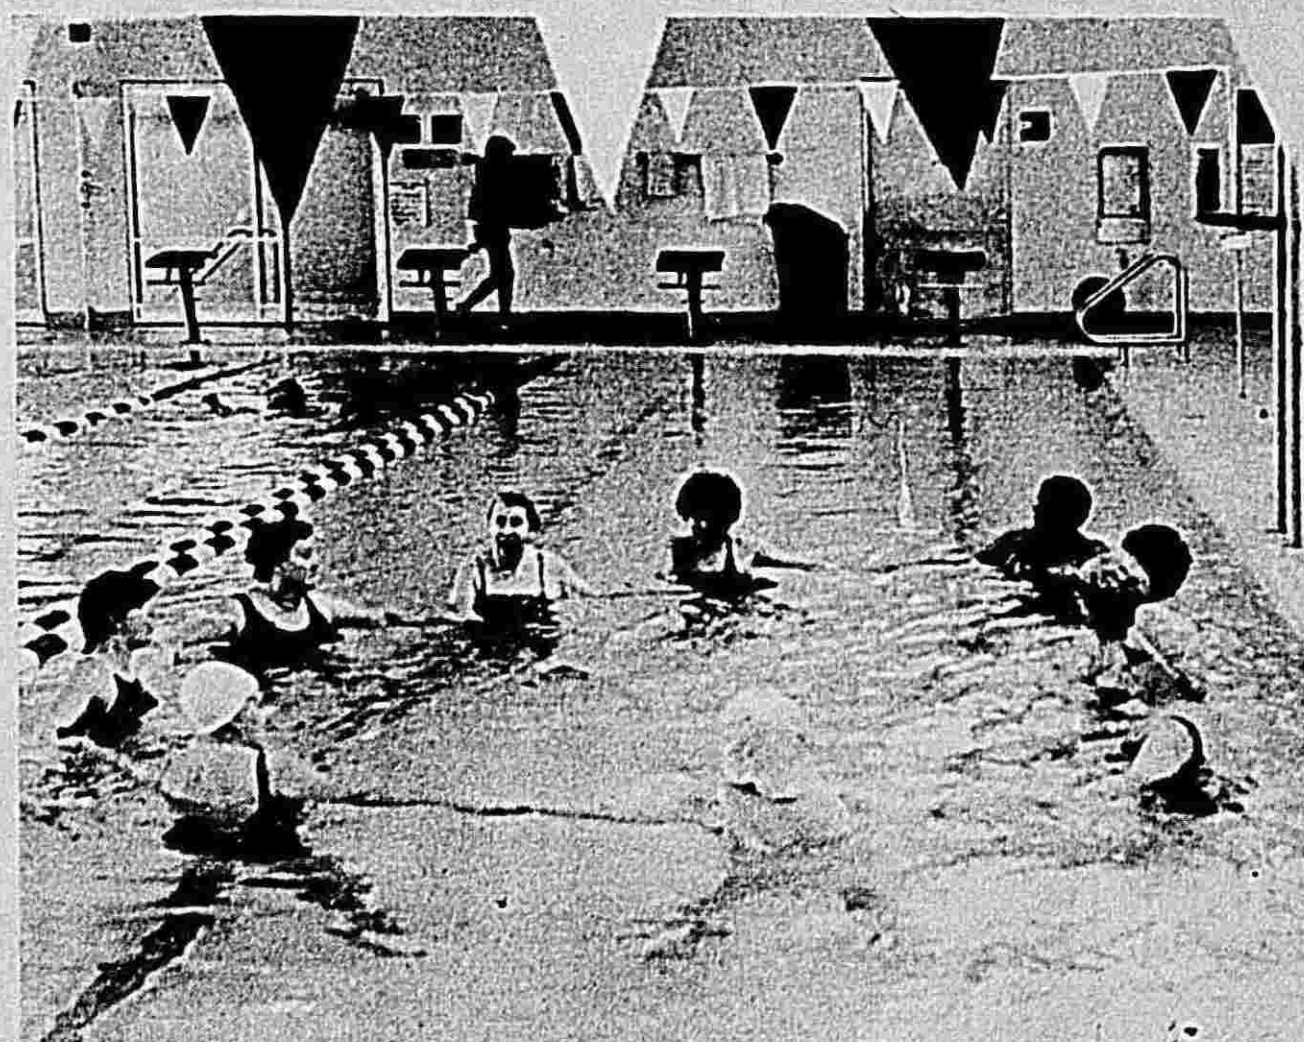

Other special classes include A.M. Workout, a fast-paced, 30-minute fitness program from 7:15 to 7:45 Monday, Wednesday and Friday. Nautilus Circuit Training is scheduled twice weekly, from 7:15 to 8 a.m. It also meets Saturday mornings from 10:15 to 11 a.m.

A specially designed Senior Fitness class featuring gentle, safe exercises meets Monday and Wednesday afternoons from 2:30 to 3:15 p.m.

A very special class featuring preschool and post-natal exercises is designed to provide childbirth preparation and to assist new mothers getting back into shape. You and Me Baby meets from 10 to 11 a.m. Tuesdays and Thursdays, and from 7:30 to 8:30 p.m. Mondays and Wednesdays.

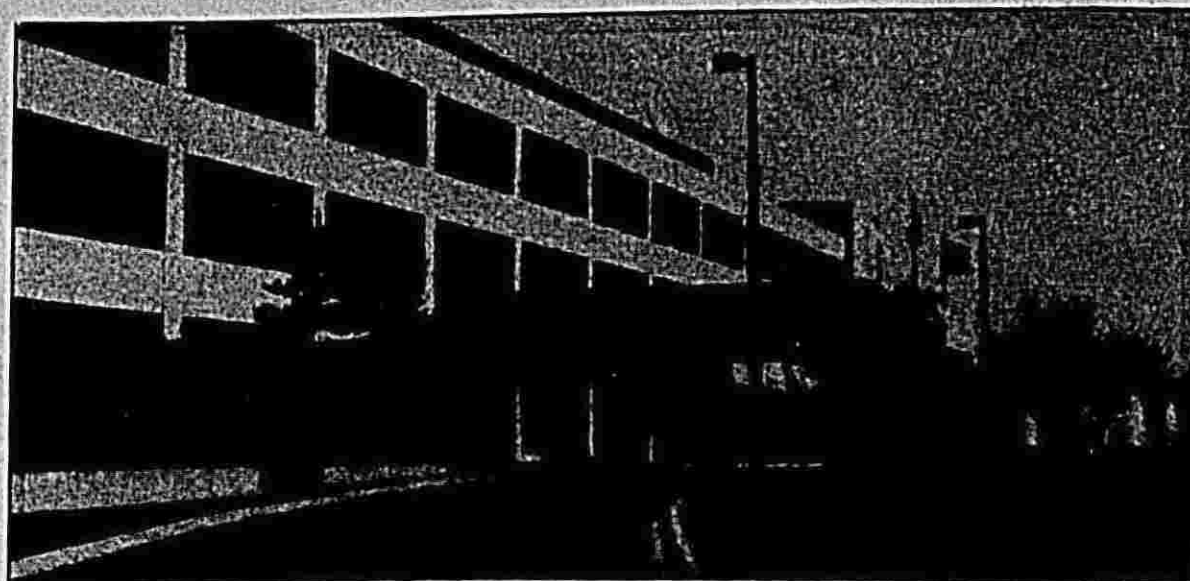

Level I and Level II Aquacise classes feature an aerobic workout with full range of motion in the pool. This class is especially popular with sufferers of arthritis. Classes are scheduled from 10 to 11 a.m. Monday, Wednesday and Friday, and from 8 to 9 p.m. Tuesday and Thursday.

All classes in Winter Session II begin the week of Feb. 22. To register, or for more information, (312) 360-9622.

Watery workout

Aquacise classes offer complete aerobic workout in the YMCA pool. Especially popular with persons suffering from arthritis, the class is offered at two levels.

Glaucoma can be treated with simple medication

Glaucoma is an eye disorder which most often has no symptoms, no pain—but, without treatment, it destroys a person's vision gradually and irreversibly.

"People may tire of hearing the message that regular medical examinations are important," said ophthalmologist Dr. Walter Fried. "But in the case of eye examinations, that advice cannot be stressed too much. Glaucoma is very simple to detect and the damage it causes is very preventable."

The most common form of glaucoma is chronic glaucoma, also called open-angle glaucoma. It progresses very slowly and painlessly and results in significant loss of vision before the individual realizes it.

A person with the less common form, called acute (or closes angle) glaucoma may have recurrent attacks of blurred vision, or pain in and around the eye.

"In a normal eye, a watery fluid called aqueous humor is constantly produced and drained from the inside of the eyeball," said Dr. Fried. "In a person with glaucoma, the fluid is produced but drains poorly, causing a build-up in pressure. That pressure reduces the blood supply to the retina and the optic nerve, causes nerve fibers to die and produces permanent loss of vision."

The loss usually occurs in the person's peripheral vision first, and may be partial or total.

Most patients with glaucoma can be treated with eye drops given two to four times daily, or by medication taken orally. These medicated drops and pills, when taken regularly and continuously, act to decrease eye pressure.

Who is at risk? The risk of glaucoma increases with age. In addition, diabetics, persons with other eye disorders (including cataracts), those with a family history of glaucoma, patients who have been treated with corticosteroid drugs, or who have sustained an eye injury, may also be at higher risk.

For a free copy of the brochure "Glaucoma: It Can Take Your Sight Away," write or call Dr. Walter Fried, 3477 Grand Ave., Gurnee, 60031, (312)249-4660.

Choice of aerobic shoe depends on shape of foot

The purpose of aerobic shoes is to allow participation in aerobic dance activities without the risk of injury. In addition, since they will be worn for a considerable amount of time, they should be cool and comfortable.

Since most people's feet have widely varying structural characteristics, requirements in aerobic shoes are just as diversified. Some may require a high degree of shock absorption, while others need more support or stability.

Cushioning is one of the most important design elements in an aerobic shoe. The material in the midsole of the aerobic shoe is in the area where most of the shock (up to five times body weight) can be transmitted up the leg, putting extreme stress on ankles and knees. Thus, it is the midsole's responsibility to absorb as much of the shock as possible.

Individuals who have a very high-arched foot type (also called a cavus foot) need extra shock absorption, since that foot type does not absorb shock well. A shoe that does not provide good shock absorption, in conjunction with this foot type, can lead to shin-splints, stress fractures and bone bruises.

In general, shock absorption and stability are opposites. The more you have of one, the less you'll have of the other. People with flat feet, or whose feet roll in (pronate), need more support than they do shock absorption.

Most of the support comes from the heel area of a shoe. Some type of heel reinforcement or stability heel collar is a must to keep the heel from rolling in.

Upper support straps over the forefoot area of the shoe help "lock in" the forefoot and provide stability in that area.

Follow safety rules outdoors

An ounce of prevention is worth more than a pound of cure when it comes to the safety of cyclists, joggers, campers, boaters and other sporting enthusiasts.

Take along a companion when engaging in an outdoor sport.

Wear reflective materials when riding, running or walking at dawn, dusk or at night. A variety of these items are available at sporting goods or automotive products stores.

Always bring a small personal protection horn in the event that you must signal for help. These lightweight devices are the compact versions of the very loud horns used on boats.

Campers should register with park rangers, even when familiar with the site.

Finally, don't overexert yourself. Exhaustion leads to accidents.

Change socks often when out on the ski trail

Low temperatures, such as those on ski trails, invariably produce complaints about cold feet. But complainers sometimes have themselves to blame as much as mercury at the bottom of the bulb.

A common cause of cold feet is tossing boots into a cold car trunk. Feet are bound to get cold when they are put into what amounts to two portable refrigerators.

Quickly rewarming the boots doesn't solve the problem, either, because it causes moisture to condense in the boots, and damp boots are invariably cold boots.

Dampness can be a cold-foot culprit in several other ways, too.

Never wear socks while driving to a ski area. Socks compress and lose their insulating value. The car heater probably blasts directly against the feet, making them perspire, and the socks will pick up salt from the perspiration, drawing out even more moisture.

Bring several pairs of socks, and change when the feet feel damp. Socks should be washed in a detergent that doesn't contain fabric softener, which apparently has much the same effect as salt in picking up moisture.

Dr. Martin J. Nemiroff of Michigan State University, who has conducted research into the subject, says almost all mammals automatically close down the blood supply to their extremities when their face is exposed to wet temperatures below 70 degrees. In other words, if the face is protected, the hands and feet will be protected also.

Chairlift riding is another underestimated source of cold feet. Alternately tensing and relaxing muscles makes them act as a secondary pump for the blood system, and will increase circulation in the legs and feet.

Excess weight will produce extra strain for the feet

Obesity puts additional demands on the feet. Painful feet prevent one from getting enough exercise, which then contributes further to obesity.

A podiatrist can treat abnormalities, discomfort, infections, trauma and pain in the feet. A good long walk each day can bring you noticeably closer to a weight reduction goal.

Stress and exercise

Exercise provides a physical outlet for pent-up emotions, and actually uses up the natural byproducts of stress: increased blood sugar, heart rate and muscle tension. Regular exercise—at least 30 minutes, three to five times a week—will give the strength to fight fatigue and illness. Home videos, or even music television, offer an easy, fun way to establish a regular exercise routine at home.

Author urges kicking the 'habit' of aging

There's absolutely no need to freak out when you reach the age of 40—or 50—or 60—or any other landmark birthday that strikes terror in the heart, says aging expert Eve Blake.

Blake's extensive research on anti-aging techniques encourages people to "kick the habit of old age."

A world lecturer and author of "Old Age is Contagious But You Don't Have to Catch It," Blake dedicates her work to the proposition that all people are created equal. "equal to kicking their aging fears and attitudes. "But you have to be willing," she emphasizes, "to kick with sufficient ferocity—and the earlier you start, the better."

She cited the prediction of Dr. Irving S. Wright of New York-Cornell Medical Center, who said, as far back as 1959, that "finding a productive, meaningful and happy life for elderly people whose lives are being prolonged by medical science may be more difficult than finding a cure for cancer."

In light of this chilling prediction, preparation for quality, not just quantity, of life is urgent, points out Blake, who also reminds readers of newest statistics from the U.S. Census Bureau, revealing that the number of 100 year olds living will more than double by 1990.

Giving lip service to the enormity of these statistics is a common practice among people. "But that is not enough," cautions Blake.

"To kill off the aging 'virus' and make life energetic, vital and joyous, they must utilize specific life strategies."

An example of one of the more common toxic patterns of aging is a tendency to live in the past.

"To head off this tendency," says Blake, "I have a technique that's practically infallible—and that is never to talk about any event—good or bad—that's more than one year old."

"Of course," she laughs, "I get a great deal of flack on that one. Usually from people who love living in the past. And usually they're old."

She lists as critical trouble spots for most older people: How to stay young and vibrant in their thinking; how to keep memory sharp and unclouded by forgetfulness; how to keep marriages or intimate relationships constantly fresh and zestful; how to gain and keep the love and devotion of children; how to avoid the twin bugaboos of self-centeredness and self-pity; how to be a joyous participant in life rather than a sluggish onlooker.

During a 12-year lecture tour, Blake became increasingly concerned with finding solutions to these and other problems of aging.

She developed a down-to-earth, easy-to-follow blueprint to show people of all ages how to increase their quality years and sustain vitality, not just enough.

Blake rose to prominence as a major Hollywood screenwriter for movies and tv. Top screen credits from MGM, RKO and Paramount weren't

Her inner need propelled her to search beyond surface glamour to deeper beauties and intrinsic life values. She challenged herself to make a lifetime contribution to humanity.

LATEST TECHNOLOGY AVAILABLE TO DIAGNOSE CATARACTS

Dr. Walter I. Fried is the first Chicago area cataract surgeon to use the new Opacity Lensmeter to measure the density of the eye's lens and evaluate and diagnose cataracts. The instrument, which is painless and does not require the eye to be dilated, is the first to give a numerical readout of lens opacity.

Unlike traditional tests, which are subjective, the Opacity Lensmeter objectively measures lens density to help the patient and doctor decide whether or when to have cataract surgery. This can help avoid unnecessary surgery by providing second opinions for patients who have been told they require cataract surgery.

Dr. Fried is offering free cataract screenings with the Opacity Lensmeter Wednesday mornings between 9 a.m. and Noon in his office at 3477 Grand Avenue, Gurnee. Screenings are conducted by ophthalmic technicians and nurses; appointments may be obtained by calling (312) 249-4660.

ATTACK HEART DISEASE BEFORE IT ATTACKS YOU.

Many people don't know they have heart disease until they have a heart attack.

During winter, cold temperatures constrict arteries which carry blood to the heart, making the heart work harder. Combined with the physical stress of shoveling snow, the possibility of heart attack increases.

A Cardiac Risk Profile may help you prevent a heart attack. The Profile includes a thorough physical examination by one of our doctors, an EKG (electrocardiogram) which measures the action of the heart muscle, and an SMA 24, a blood test which measures cholesterol, triglycerides and other blood components.

Based on the results from your examination and tests, our doctors will recommend a plan to help reduce your risk for heart disease. The Profile is available now through March 30 for only $49.

Take steps to success with fitness

While the idea of a healthy lifestyle appeals to most people, actually carrying through with it is another matter.

Terry Kempher, fitness consultant and trainer with One on One Body Design, Lake Villa, offers these "steps to success" in developing a lifestyle of health and fitness.

--Decide that fitness is an important priority in your life. If it is not, you will not sacrifice the time or effort necessary to achieve it.

--Take action. Avoid the trap of idly wishing for fitness; procrastination is the sworn enemy of achievement.

--Set clear-cut goals. Without a definite purpose, you can't expect to achieve optimal results.

Set a series of smaller goals as steps towards larger ones. These short-term goals will give you something by which to measure daily progress.

Be sure the goals are reasonable and attainable. It's a good idea to not only read goals daily, but also evaluate your program continuously to make sure you're staying on course.

--Erase limits. Don't let past failures and insecurities get in the way. You can positively program attitude to achieve goals. "What can be conceived and believed can be achieved."

--Visualization. Every day, without exception, spend a few minutes relaxing and visualizing goals as though you have already achieved them.

--Keep records. Maintain a fitness journal. Include pictures, measurements, body weight, body fat percentage, etc. Having progress documented can be a powerful motivator.

--Have a support system. One person's willpower is often insufficient to stay with a fitness program, or any lifestyle change, for that matter. A support system can include family, friends, or professional assistance.

--Accept the responsibility. Your life is your own; you alone are responsible for it. If motivation is going to stay high, you must remember that you are involved in a fitness lifestyle for yourself—not to please someone else. In the end, a program will never work unless it's something you really want to do for yourself. Others can provide incentives, but the prime reason must come from yourself.

Waterbeds are therapeutic for backache, insomnia

Health care professionals are discovering a growing number of uses for water beds in both the professional environment and the home, including relief of insomnia, backache, pain of arthritis, and the prevention and treatment of bed sores.

These health benefits are derived from two properties of "flotation sleep" that are unavailable from conventional mattresses. The weight of a sleeping body is distributed evenly on the surface of a water mattress, and all parts of the body are supported.

Circulation is further enhanced by the warmth from heated flotation systems. Heat is the second principle of a flotation system. By contrast, on a conventional bed, the body's weight is concentrated on pressure points at the shoulders, the hips, the heels and the back of the head. Circulation through the capillaries is cut off by the weight of the body against the sleeping surface.

Steven F. Garfin, M.D., studied the surface pressure distribution of the body on different sleeping surfaces in 1979. He found that "the waterbed in contrast (to other beds) distributed the weight more evenly, with less variance between maximum and minimum values." His report, published in the Archives of Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation, stated, "Theoretically, an even distribution of body weight with the bed contributing support over a larger surface area should be beneficial and perhaps give an individual a more restful period during recumbency.

"In addition to weight support advantages, the frequency of movements necessary to relieve prolonged excessive tissue pressures may also be reduced on these structures," the report states further.

Daniel Silver, M.D., an orthopedic surgeon from Santa Monica, qualified the general belief that a hard bed is good for back problems.

"A harder surface that is not equally supportive of the body can put the spine into some positions that are really bizarre, and not at all beneficial," he said, "putting undue stress on ligaments and muscles which would really contribute to a backache."

NEW ADVANCES IN BUNION TREATMENT NOW AVAILABLE IN LAKE COUNTY

Dr. Lee Tisa, a local podiatrist with offices located in Waukegan and Antioch, has perfected a new surgical technique for the permanent correction of bunion foot deformities. The technique is based on the Swiss Bone Fixation Principles, which took over forty years to develop and perfect in Europe.

Dr. Tisa states that the advantages of this new procedure are many: 1). Eliminates the need for a cast after surgery. 2). May be done on an outpatient basis, which eliminates costly hospitalization. 3). Enables the patient to resume normal shoe gear in three weeks, other procedures usually take eight to twelve weeks. 4). Immediate mobility after surgery without the use of crutches, walkers, or canes.

Dr. Tisa has been performing this procedure for two years and has written an article which will be published in an upcoming issue of the Journal of foot surgery.

With the Swiss Technique Dr. Tisa corrects the bunion deformity by repositioning the bone. The bone is then fixated in the proper position. The patient may exercise the joint immediately, which promotes faster healing and alleviates the usual joint stiffness normally associated with bunion surgery.

Dr. Tisa strongly feels this new procedure will revolutionize bunion surgery. If you have any questions regarding this article please feel free to contact the offices of Dr. Lee M. Tisa.

Marabella
enjoys wide scope of job

by BILL DOTSON

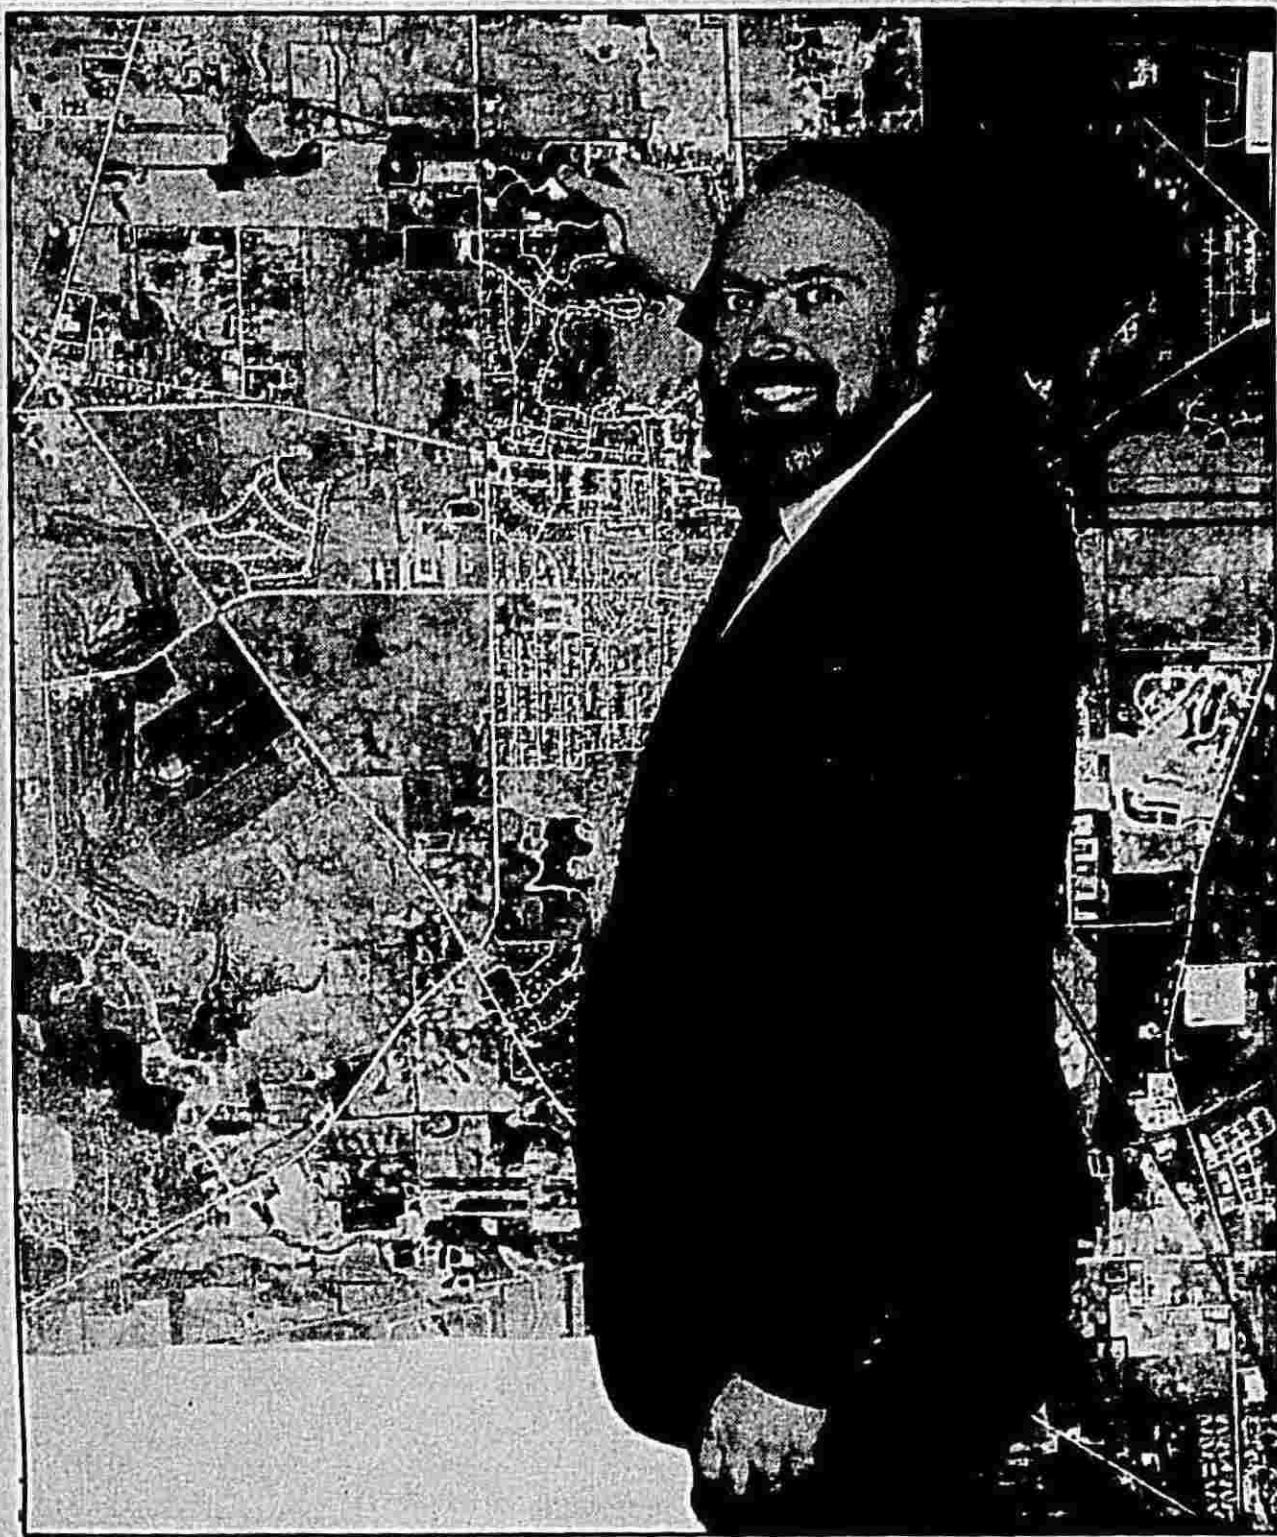

"A village is not like a business, it is a business", Mundelein Village Administrator Ken Marabella declared. "People don't realize that, but when you think about it, certainly, local government is a business in that it provides goods and services to a large customer population," he continued, clearly warming up to the prospect of elaborating on that idea.

"For example, we provide water and sewer services. We bill several hundred customers a month. The village provides water, delivers it, and takes away the waste product."

"Local government has budgets and fiscal constraints like a business. We have the same liability concerns, same concerns for our customers. We're just closer and more responsive to our customers than other kinds of businesses. We have to be because so much of our work is emergency and priority-related."

Marabella, who comes across as thoughtful and self-assured, has been Mundelein's village administrator for 13 years. "I started in January, 1975," he said. "When I first came to Mundelein, I wanted to just last for maybe three years and then move on. But I found Mundelein has as much or more to offer than anyplace else I might go."

As village administrator, Marabella oversees the day-to-day affairs of the village. Asked if he had such a thing as a "typical day", he explained that there is a great deal of variety. "There's a whole gamut of experiences every day. You go from dealing with $100 million dollar developments to a complaint I had this morning about McDonald's throw-aways blowing across somebody's lawn."

Ken Marabella

"Whenever I'm asked to speak at a school, I usually put this wheel up on a board and fill it with whoever I deal with on a day-to-day basis. Before long, the wheel is filled. I come in contact with all kinds of people. I deal with the mayor every day, for instance, as well as the public," Marabella said.

"At the village level, you're the first line of local government and, therefore, the most accessible."

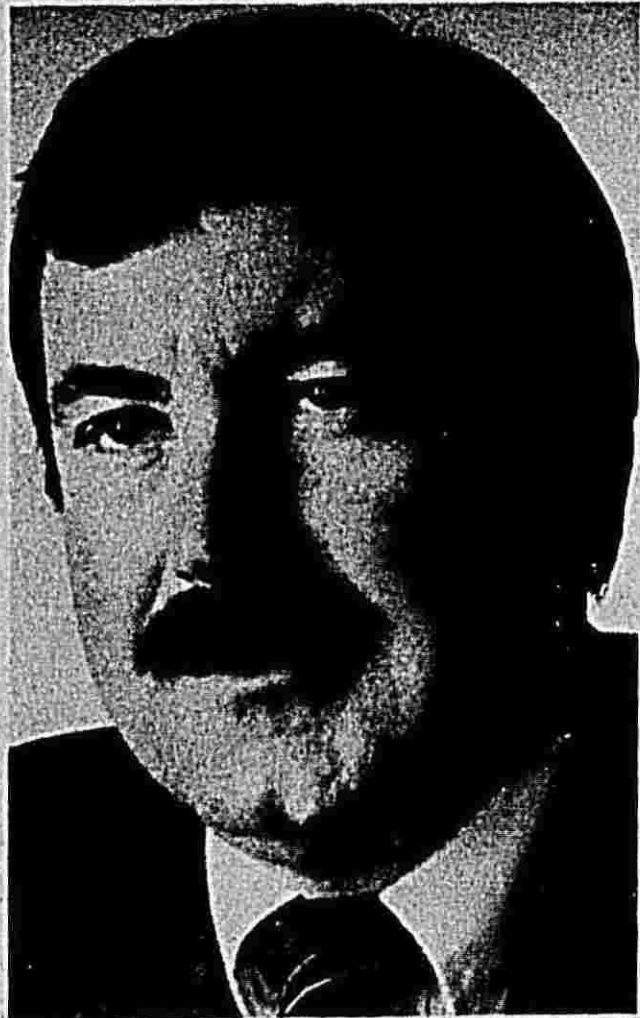

Along with his duties as village administrator, Marabella is also a member of or alternate to the Solid Waste Planning Agency, the Lake County Community Development Commission, and the Inter-governmental Risk Management Association. Marabella admits that his job and involvement with these other duties leave him little time to himself.

Trend in office parks is to buy

Where have all the industrial-office park tenants gone?

"In increasing numbers, they've gone to become owners," observed Harry L. Dolan, whose commercial real estate development and investment firm is experiencing more market movement from buyers than from renters.

Dolan, president of Bannockburn-based Dolan Associates, sees a trend toward ownership at Lincolnshire Business Center, the company's new 93-acre industrial-warehouse park in Lincolnshire.

Dolan is developing speculative buildings in the park, and is selling land to users and other developers. But market action to date—years ahead of the marketing schedule—has come from buyers, not renters.

"Many of the sales we've made in the sellout of the first four phases of Lincolnshire Business Center have been from entrepreneurs who own their real estate as well, and lease it back to their companies," he said, adding, "They want to personally own the real estate as well, and lease it back to their companies."

This trend became even more apparent after the "Black Monday" stock market crash and has not abated, reports Dolan. As he explains, "individuals who traditionally looked to the stock market as their choice for personal investments suddenly began rethinking that strategy. With yields on bonds also low, and the tax advantages taken out of real estate limited partnerships, owning one's own facility has begun to make the most sense."

Dolan described the process he is seeing as follows:

An entrepreneur either buys an existing facility or buys land and has a facility built to fit company requirements. He or she then signs a long-term lease with the company and, based on that, is usually able to finance 80 percent or more of the total project cost.

The company's rent is a tax-deductible expense. Rental income to the entrepreneur, as landlord, comes in almost entirely tax free because of the depreciation available for the building.

"The rent not only covers the investor's mortgage payments, but also provides an above-market return on equity," Dolan noted. "In addition, with each monthly mortgage payment, the principal amount is amortized, or paid off, leaving the entrepreneur ultimately owning the property free and clear."

"Since real estate has always been a great hedge against inflation, and

Medical center's occupancy increases after renovation

Market repositioning and a modest $40,000 renovation of Hawthorn Place Medical Center in Libertyville have served to increase the building's occupancy by more than 24 percent at 7 percent rent increases, according to L.J. Sheridan & Co., leasing/management agent that directed operations.

The architecturally distinctive three-story,

35,000-square-foot structure—designed by Holabird & Root—was built in 1979 by the owner, a major institutional investor.

"The renovation, begun in 1987 and now 90 percent complete, warmed up the contemporary feel of the medical arts center, which has much patient traffic," said Roland T.

Kowal, L.J. Sheridan assistant vice president.

Much of the work was done in the atrium lobby, through the use of wood-oak benches and a large pedestal-type oak directory in the center—as well as the resurfacing of all suite entrance doors. Also, new lighted sign will display the medical center's new logo.

The building, now 86 percent occupied, exclusively houses medical and dental practices and support services.

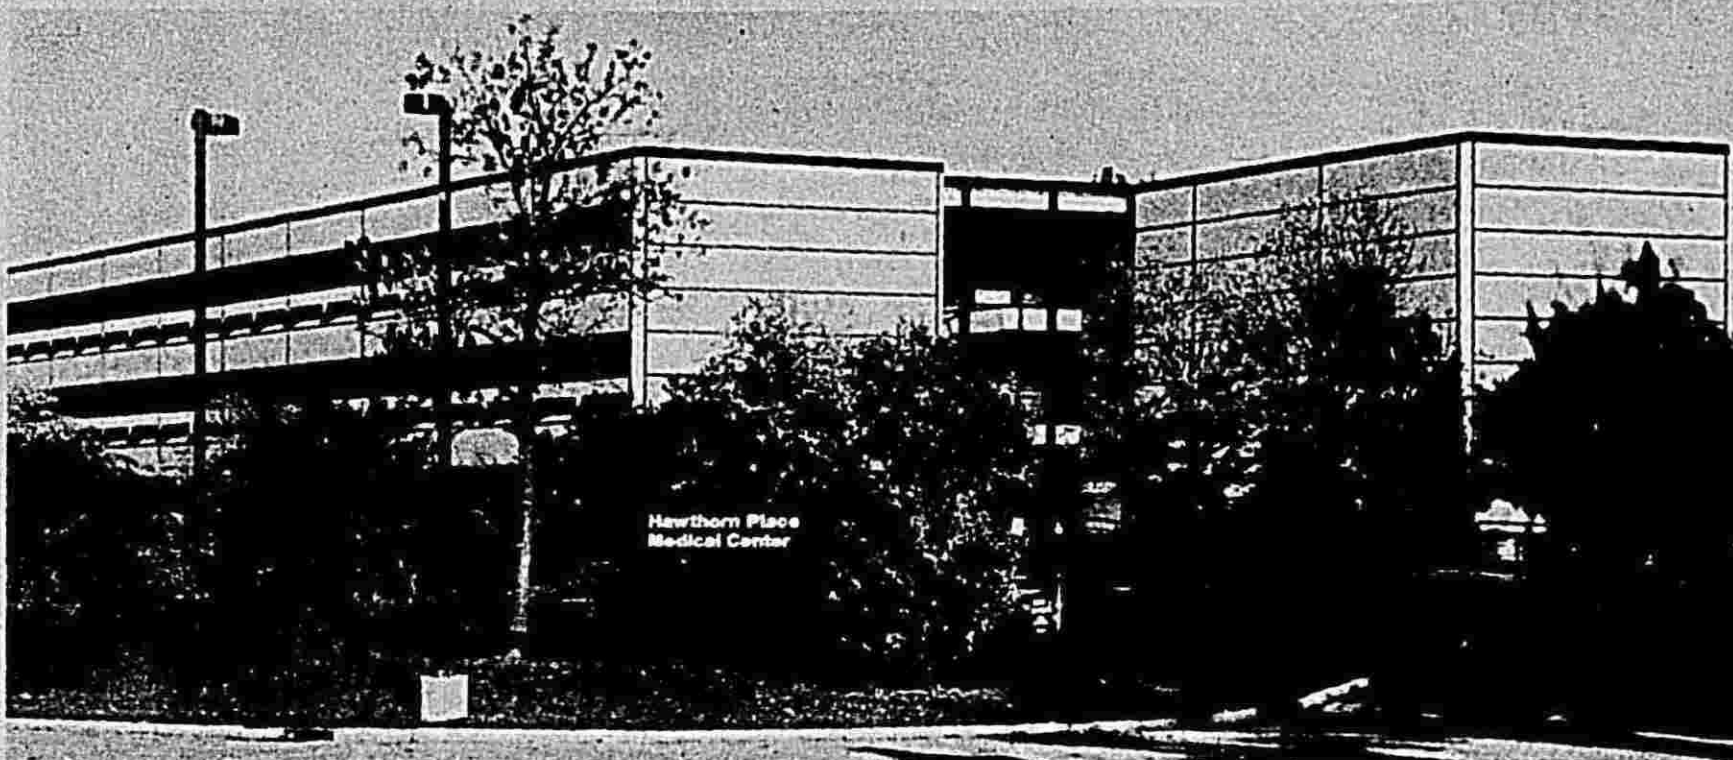

Seven new tenants signed leases, and a number of existing leases were renegotiated in the past year, Kowal reports. Largest of the 20 tenants in the building is Hawthorn Place Surgical Center, a mini-hospital complex, which now occupies some 7,000 square feet after completing a 30 percent expansion.

The building has an elevator equipped to handle wheelchairs and other ambulatory vehicles.

Hawthorne Place Medical Center, 1900 Hollister Dr., is near Milwaukee Ave., just north of Rte. 60.

For more information about available space at $16 per gross square foot, contact L.J. Sheridan & Co. at (312) 843-0790.

Hawthorn Place Medical Center

A $40,000 renovation and market repositioning of three-story, 35,000-square-foot Hawthorn Place Medical Center in Libertyville have resulted in occupancy increase of more than 24 percent at 7 percent rent increases, reports Chicago-based L.J. Sheridan &

Co., exclusive leasing/management agent that directed operations. Medical center is now 86 percent leased with medical and dental practices and support services.

"There's some meeting or another most nights. Since we (the village board) meet most Saturdays, I work six long days a week. That's not even counting the occasional breakfast meeting, either. The other day I had a meeting at 7:30."

Marabella says that his family is "very understanding of the amount of hours I have to spend away. It's tough, too, at the times of the year when everybody's going out doing something, going to prom or whatever. But they're wonderful."

Marabella and his wife Sheila have been married for 17 years and they have four sons: Michael, 14; Timothy, 12; Patrick, 9; and Daniel, 1-and-a-half.

Describing how he got started in his field, Marabella said, "I've always been interested in the functioning of government and helping people." Before becoming Mundelein's village administrator, he worked as a research analyst for Lake County for about a year-and-a-half. "One of the first projects I worked on was the community development project, the original legislation," he said.

"Mundelein is still involved in that project. Proposals from 3 different major homebuilders will be addressed by the board in 1988. Several new projects are under consideration for the west side of Mundelein."

Prior to his stint with the county, Marabella earned a bachelor's degree in political science from Bradley University in Peoria and a master's degree in public education at the University of Denver, CO. He is a graduate of Zion-Benton High School and was born and raised in Winthrop Harbor. He and his family now live in Wadsworth.

Asked what he sees in store for his future, Marabella said one thing he likes most about his job is variety. "My job has changed dramatically over the years. It is changing everyday. When you have a fantastic group of staff people to work with, it makes life more interesting and fun. When you have a community that you love, like Mundelein with all that it has to offer, why would you leave?"

Office parks

rental rates almost always go up, not down, the value of the building will appreciate," noted Dolan.

While seeing the trend toward ownership most graphically at Lincolnshire Business Center, he also is fielding similar inquiries for the Green Oaks Corporate Center, a 38-acre office park under development at the four-way interchange of the Tri-State Tollway and Rte. 176.

In that complex, Dolan is offering land sites as small as two acres, with zoning that permits office buildings five floors in height.

Chief executives are learning fast what developers like Dolan have known all along: There's gold in developed land, but it takes an accountant—and another entrepreneur—to spot that glitter.
